Saanich Police Have Busy Week End

Looking over thousands of books of tickets, lists and receipts from lotteries that include the Irish Sweepstake and the Grand National, Saanich Const. Robin Stewart, Sgt. Cecil Pearce and Const. George Walton begin the long task of listing them. The tickets were part of a police haul made early Monday. George H. Coward, 929 North Park, was arrested.

Saanich Detective Joseph Armstrong and Tillicum Theatre Manager Bill Ward examine the hole in the offices of the outdoor theatre made by safecrackers Sunday. The thieves forced the office safe door open but failed to get into the strongbox that contained the money. The brace and bit used in making the hole is pictured just as police found it. (See story Page 15.)

Wounded in the head by a shotgun charge in a week-end shooting was Robert Davis, 27, of 1242 Johnson. The incident led to a charge of attempted murder again 48-year-old Saanich farmer Edward Lore. Davis was released from hospital Monday.

Mossadegh Weeps Through Session

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—Ex-premier Mohammed Mossadegh wept and wailed through the second day of his treason trial Monday with another breathtaking display of histrionics that left the prosecution harassed and angry.

The aged politician announced he would have nothing more to do with his lawyer—"You've forced him on me"—and then shouted, sobbed, paled as if about to faint, waved his arms and stormed at the judge and prosecutor.

The prosecutor, Hossein Azemoudeh, complained, "He's an egregious actor and he thinks this is a stage." Court president Nasrollah Moghbeli said, "It looks as if you're the judge, not me."

"May I sacrifice for you my dear life, oh Judge General?" Mossadegh pleaded sarcastically, and turning to Azemoudeh, said, "In my frail condition I am even afraid to weep in court, lest I offend certain gentlemen." He burst into tears.

The second day of Mossadegh's trial was even more stormy than the one Sunday. He shuffled into court wearing the same threadbare prison overcoat he wore Sunday. The court waited expectantly while he read his own brief for 10 minutes.

"I am somewhat ill," Mossadegh began, and he asked for water. He appeared gaunt and sickly grey. There was no indication of the outbursts to come. From time to time he interrupted the proceedings to ask for more water.

"Whatever I say today in my defense is not prompted by a desire not to be condemned," Mossadegh said, "because whatever verdict the president pronounces, I'll submit to it and will not protest against any sentence.

"I will not accept the shah's forgiveness if he should decide so—I am no traitor and not afraid."

He handed a copy of his lengthy brief to the court recorder, who was writing it down as Mossadegh read it.

Mossadegh is accused of treason in refusing to resign as premier on the shah's orders last August, and of inciting violence against the shah. As Sunday, Mossadegh challenged the right of the court to try him and insisted he is still the legal premier.

Time, Patience, Goodwill Churchill Peace Formula

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill appealed Monday night for "time and patience and goodwill" to ease world tension. He cautioned against letting "foolish speech" enflame Anglo-American relations.

Speaking in the role of an elder statesman, the 79-year-old prime minister told the London Lord Mayor's dinner:

"Some people say their worry is about Anglo-American relations. I do not share their anxieties. After all, we are both free-speaking democracies and where there is a great deal of free speach there is always a certain amount of foolish speech.

"But many rude things we say about each other are nothing compared to what we say about ourselves."

Turning to the muddle in Trieste, Sir Winston said: "We strongly advise partisans of either side (Italy and Yugoslavia) in the disputed zones to keep quiet."

Sonny Jones Pays Penalty

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charles Matthews, professional boxer known as Sonny Jones, was hanged at Oakalla prison early today for the hammer-slaying of Mrs. Los Angeles Smith last March.

The trap was sprung at 12.04 a.m. PST.

Big Three Talks May Go On Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government official said Monday night that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill of Britain and Premier Joseph Laniel of France plan to meet soon to discuss the world situation, probably in Bermuda.

This official, who asked not to be named, said no date has been fixed for the Big Three conference. But he indicated it would probably be soon.

U.S., British and French differences with Russia undoubtedly would be one topic of discussion.

That topic, as well as differences which have arisen among the Big Three, was high on the agenda for an Eisenhower-Churchill-Laniel conference scheduled for Bermuda last July.

That meeting was postponed because of Sir Winston's illness. The prime minister has now returned to the job.

The White House has always emphasized that the July meeting was postponed and not canceled. Detailed plans are still ready to put into effect.

Election Violence Kills Six

MANILA (UP)—Six persons were killed in election violence today as Filipinos went to the polls in record numbers.

Army headquarters rushed 40 troops in an armored car and jeeps armed with .50-calibre machine guns to Cavite to put down further uprisings expected by officials here.

Four persons were killed in Cavite. The Liberal party vice-mayor of Baccor village and two of his bodyguards were slain by men reported to be wearing police uniforms. The fourth victim was the 16-year-old son of a Nacionalista party leader, killed when his home was riddled by carbine and rifle fire in Niog village.

An estimated 5,500,000 Filipino voters streamed to the polls to decide whether to retain the Liberal party's President Elpidio Quirino or replace him with the Nacionalistas' Ramon Magsaysay.

The election is the second since the republic won its independence seven years ago.

Press dispatches from Baccor said the vice-mayor was killed when uniformed police fired without provocation on the group riding in a jeep.

The shooting was reported to be the aftermath of a raid on Baccor Sunday night by agents of Liberal party Governor Dominador Cameringo in an attempt to kill the Nacionalista party leader.

Meanwhile, a warrant was issued for the arrest of the Nacionalista candidate for Cavite's lone seat in the House of Representatives, Jose Cajulis. The warrant was issued on charges of illegal possession of firearms. Cajulis was reported in hiding.

A supporter of the Nacionalistas' presidential candidate Ramon Magsaysay was reported shot and wounded by a detective in the presence of the Liberal party mayor of Cebu City. The mayor, according to a dispatch, said the victim, Delfin Lopez, was shot when he made a move to shoot the mayor.

Revolt Quelled In Bolivia

Indian Girl's Death Laid to Housing

Child Left Open to Disease By Chill, Damp, Draughts

BY BRIAN O'CONNELL

Sub-human living conditions on the West Saanich Indian Reserve have been blamed for the death of a tiny Indian girl and the chronic illnesses of many of her playmates and elders in the T'sartlip Band.

Life had been one continuous struggle for survival for three-year-old Delores Henry.

The child, anaemic at birth, had fought off two attarks of pneumonia during her brief and tragic life. But it was a losing battle for the little girl.

One cold after another had sapped the strength from her small body and when the diarrhea epidemic now spreading through the reserve, hit her, she was too weak to survive it.

She was admitted to Resthaven Hospital Thursday in a coma and in convulsions, and died the next day of acute meningitis.

Last rites for Delores were held in the Church of Assumption, West Saanich Road, Monday, by Father LeClare, parish priest. She was buried in the Catholic Cemetery.

STORM OF PROTEST

The death of this little girl, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henry, has brought a storm of protest from the members of the T'sartlip Band.

Led by Chief Baptiste Paull, the Indians claim that shocking conditions in the Henry home, which according to them was condemned by the department of Indian affairs doctor almost 30 years ago, was the main cause of the child's continual illness, and eventually led to her death.

A solemn cloud hangs over the reserve as families wonder whose child will be the next victim of the draughty and poorly heated homes, the inadequate sanitation and the low standard of living.

Dr. Walter H. Roberts, resident physician at Resthaven, said Monday: "The condition of the Indians is a real grief to me.

"Their housing is bad, their diet is bad, and their economic status is bad.

MORE HOUSES

"If anyone is going to do anything to help them, the first thing they should do is to supply them with more houses. There are some things they can do to help themselves, but they are at a terrible disadvantage at the present time.

Israel Condemned For Arab Massacre

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Britain, France and the United States Monday condemned Israel for what they called the massacre of Arabs in the village of Kibya.

Spokesmen for the three countries told the United Nations Security Council that a detailed report by the UN truce supervisor, Maj.-Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark, confirmed their belief that the attack was carried out by Israeli armed forces and the government of Israel was responsible for it.

They said, however, that they would await speeches by Jordan and Israeli representatives before asking for council action against Israel.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb warned that such acts constitute a threat to peace throughout the Middle East.

Jebb said it was difficult for the Israel government to escape responsibility for the incident. Information given to the security council by Gen. Bennike "can only confirm my government in condemning it and reinforce their opinion that it has constituted a threat to the security of the entire area."

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., said he has "no doubts" that Israel was to blame.

WAVE OF HORROR

France's Henri Hoppenot said a wave of "horror and reprobation was stirred throughout France by the Kibya massacre."

Bennike said Israeli troops have stepped up their anti-Arab attacks this year.

Ransom Bills Found

PETOSKEY, Mich. (AP) — A police chief said Monday agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have found in Petoskey and Detroit two single bills from the $600,000 Greenlease ransom money, and are searching in Michigan for other clues to the missing $308,000.

The report created speculation that the "hot" money came into Michigan from Chicago or St. Louis hoodlums trying to pass it through professional "fences" at 30 to 50 cents on the dollar.

The FBI made no immediate comment on the report by police chief Philo Wakeford of Petoskey.

All the $600,000 ransom money was in $10 and $20 bills.

It was paid by Robert C. Greenlease, millionaire Kansas City, Mo., automobile dealer, October 4, in hopes that his kidnapped son, Bobby, would be returned. The boy already was dead.

Truman Claim Denied

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina said Monday night former President Truman saw an FBI report alleging Harry Dexter White was a Communist spy before White was confirmed for a high government post in 1946.

Byrnes thus corroborated a charge by Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., that the Truman administration had received "full and adequate notice" in two FBI reports on White, one-time assistant secretary of the treasury, before White was promoted.

Byrnes, at the time Mr. Truman's secretary of state, said he discussed the reports with Truman the day the Senate confirmed White's nomination.

Mr. Truman has denied that he ever saw the reports and said he "fired" White as soon as he learned that his loyalty was in doubt.

Two Perish in Struggle Against Neck-Deep Mud

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Helicopters Monday reached four persons trapped by neck-deep mud, but two were already dead.

They were W. T. Lee, Jr., 25, and Mrs. R. W. Lakey, 20. Lee was believed to have been drowned when he swallowed, in panic, water that covered the mud.

Mrs. Lakey apparently was killed by exposure and exhaustion. The other two persons with them were Lee's 16-year-old bride of a week, Joyce, and Lakey, 30.

They were suffering from shock and exposure. Mrs. Lee's condition was serious.

The four were marooned on a mudbank late Sunday when the outboard motor on their skiff broke down.

It didn't look far to solid ground, Lakey said, and the mud looked firm so they decided to try to wade out. Lee and his wife started across the mud and though Mrs. Lee made it, Lee quickly tired.

"Lee apparently got scared and drove himself until he was weak," Lakey said. "He made it to within an arm's length of shore."

"Joyce was so tired she could do nothing but lie down. Nell (Mrs. Lakey) and I got about a third of the way to shore. Joyce shouted that Lee had stopped breathing and she couldn't get him to shore."

Lakey finally reached Lee and pulled him on a clump of Reeds. He gave him artificial respiration for two hours.

By this time, it was dark and Mrs. Lakey kept shouting that she was making progress through the mud and for him to go find help. Lakey vainly tried to hail a passing boat.

"I went back through the grass to where the others were," he said. "My wife was still working her way to shore but by now it was beginning to be daylight and I saw she was dropping her head."

When the helicopters arrived, Mrs. Lee was holding the head of her dead husband. Lakey had struggled back to his wife, neck deep in the mire.

He said he was too weak to help her to go on and tried to protect her from the wind, but she died about 20 minutes before the helicopters came. They had managed to get half a mile from their boat.

Prototype of 'Bridge of San Luis Rey' Stupendous Inca Engineering Feat

In association with the American Geographical Society, Victor von Hagen, one of the world's leading experts on South American history and exploration, is directing an intensive, two-year study of a forgotten world —the 2,000-mile highway of the ancient Incas.

BY VICTOR VON HAGEN

CUZCO, Peru (NANA) — We have reached the terrifying edge of the Apurimac River, one of the headwaters of the Amazon, and looked down upon one of the most famous bridges in all the Americas. That is—we looked down at the place where the suspension bridge once hung, or better, swayed, for seven centuries. For this Inca-constructed bridge which stretched across the turbulent Apurimac was for centuries—until the completion of the Brooklyn Bridge—one of the longest suspension bridges in the world.

Millions of Indians crossed that bridge during the years of its existence, Spanish conquistadores hurried up the multi-million-dollar ransom of the captured Inca over its swaying cables, knights and viceroys hung terrified to its tossing strands. From the 13th until the 19th century this bridge was the only means of crossing the river. Yet this span, called the Apurimac-Chaca, would have been lost to human memory (as it is now almost lost to encroaching vegetation) had it not been for an American novelist. For this is the "Bridge of San Luis Rey" which, in 1927, first brought fame to Thorton Wilder and, inadvertently, immortality to one of the astounding engineering feats of the Incas.

The Apurimac, "The River that Speaks," is the Colorado of Peru, cutting through the Andean heartland and gouging out a deep gorge like the Grand Canyon. In the dry season it is an orderly river, but in the rainy season the Apurimac "speaks" loudly, rising more than 60 feet and becoming a raging menace.

It was this river which the Incas, as part of their system of communications, bridged so well that it lasted for seven centuries. They found the only part where the river narrowed for their bridge, they zig-zagged their road down the sides of the precipitous Grand Canyon of Peru and, with an audacity that astounded modern engineers, hung their cables between the out-thrust crags.

Imagination now has to recreate the road that led to the bridge, for time and man's neglect have all but destroyed it. The Inca road, 15 feet wide, paved with stone, led out of their capital Cuzco, bound for the distant provinces. It led out of the Valley of Cuzco, crossed a miasma over a nine-mile-long causeway, crossed the raw Punas 15,000 feet high and entered another valley. When it came to the approaches of the famous bridge, it ran along the mountain top—always 15 feet wide— then in a dizzy zigzag dropped down the 3,000-foot side of the canyon to the bridge.

Time has played havoc with the famous span. Its great cables, thick as a man's body and hand-woven from the fibres of the century plant disappeared altogether some time in the latter part of the 19th century. The fine stone work—judged the best in the world—has fallen into the river, and the road cut into the cliffs is overgrown with vegetation.

Spanish literature is filled with frightful remembrances of passage across the bridge. It was built by the Inca Roca some time in the 14th century and during its 700 years it served the Incas, the conquistadores, the subjects of Spain and, until 1880, the Republic of Peru. Until steel was put into general use, the Apurimac could be crossed in no other way.

The Incas had no wood to speak of, and they did not know of the arch. Thus the only means left them to bridge the numerous rivers and chasms was the suspension bridge.

But of all the bridges—and there were hundreds — which knitted the Inca roads into a system, the bridge which crossed the Apurimac was the longest and technically the most advanced. The suspension cables were sunk deep in the masonry at their ends, and then mounted high over pillars to give the bridge the proper suspension.

We had to use the arts of the alpinists to study the "Bridge of San Luis Rey." Pressing ourselves against the walls of rock, we descended the steps as if we were going down the flattened coils of a corkscrew. A thousand feet below roared the "great speaker," Apurimac, and we wondered when we were going down how the Incas had constructed the wonderful flight of stone steps on the side of nothing.

It was afternoon and the wind, welling up from the distant Amazon, was whispering through the foliage, but by the time we reached the lower and last cave, where once the great rope cables of the bridge were anchored on the western side, the whisper of the wind had become shrill. We remembered that no one ever crossed the bridge after 3 p.m., for despite the guy ropes that held it, the bridge rocked back and forth like a swing.

Plants Require Good Drainage

BY M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Good soil drainage is of vital importance to almost all plants. Only a very few kinds are specially adapted by nature to grow in soils completely saturated with water.

What many amateurs fail to realize is that the roots of plants actually breathe — that is, they take in air and give out carbon dioxide, just as we do. The amounts involved may be very small, but if the soil is so full of water that the roots can no longer breathe, they are quite literally drowned, and die as the result. This is what happens in winter to many plants growing in badly drained soil.

As the water level rises higher, more and more of the roots are killed, and when the water reaches the surface level and stays there for some time, it is more than likely that the roots will be killed and the plants will die.

GROWTH CHECKED

Even with conditions less extreme than this, the plants may be considerably checked in their growth through the drowning and consequent loss of a number of the fine root hairs. In our part of the world, far more plants are winter-killed through drowning than through frost damage, and it is really surprising to find how many so-called tender plants will survive a winter outdoors when growing in a well-drained location.

The one sure-fire treatment for a low-lying, soggy garden is the installation of tile drains, but this is an expensive operation; moreover, it won't work unless the drain has a ditch or some other serviceable outlet to drain into. Fortunately, there are some easier and cheaper methods of improving the drainage of small gardens.

IMPROVE TEXTURE

Quite a lot can be done, when the soggy condition is not too extreme, by simply improving the texture of the soil. Sand and grit dug in will tend to make it more porous and allow moisture to pass through it more freely. Dead leaves, strawy manure, and other fibrous material will have the same effect. Ashes are useful, providing they are sharp and rather coarse—the fine, smooth, powdery ashes from soft coal and wood won't work, but anthracite and coke ash is excellent.

You can improve the drainage of individual beds amazingly by simply raising the level of the beds a few inches. This can often be done without importing soil by excavating some soil from the paths and throwing it up on the beds.

BETTER PLAN

An even better plan is to dig out the soil from the paths to a depth of about a foot, replacing it with hard rubble, such as stones, clinkers, or broken brick. This converts the path into a drainage ditch, draining off the excess water from the adjacent beds.

It is best, of course, if this path "drain" can be made to lead somewhere, to rid itself of the water it collects. Failing this, it can connect with a deep sump hole filled with rubble.

B.C. Ports Freed of Warranties

Marine Insurance Reduced

BY TOM GREEN
Colonist Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier announced Monday that marine underwriters in London, England, have abolished additional marine insurance premiums on ships trading to ports on the Mainland of the Coast of British Columbia, between 50 degrees and 54 degrees 30' north latitude.

This follows representations made to the Commonwealth Shipping Committee, London, England, by the department of transport and the Vancouver Chamber of Shipping, and of a survey made in British Columbia in June this year by Sir Clement Jones, chairman of the committee.

The freeing of the ports from institute warranties will mean that additional premiums will not be levied by London underwriters on ships trading to any port in British Columbia from Vancouver, Victoria, and New Westminster in the south, and to Prince Rupert in the north.

Formerly ocean-going ships trading to ports on the Mainland of British Columbia within the above limits, which include Oceanfalls, Kitimat and Prince Rupert, were subject to payment of additional marine insurance premiums. Exception was made in the case of ships trading to Prince Rupert, provided such ships approached the port from seaward via Dixon entrance north of the Queen Charlotte Islands and proceeded from the port to sea by this route.

Mr. Chevrier in making this announcement, expressed warm appreciation in the able manner in which the Commonwealth Shipping Committee under the chairmanship of Sir Clement Jones, had dealt with the matter, and of the understanding way in which London underwriters had received the representations which led up to the freeing of the ports from institute warranties.

Medical Services Plan Goal of Civic Workers

Municipal employees throughout B.C. are going to concentrate in their new contracts on getting coverage under a medical services plan.

Municipalities formerly were barred from granting the request under the municipal act. An amendment to the act at the recent session cleared the way for such a move, however, it was reported Monday.

Some councils which were participating in the scheme with employees made temporary arrangements for payments by employees when they were informed of the illegality of participation in the scheme before the amendment.

Firemen and inside and outside staffs at Oak Bay have listed the medical services as one request in new contract demands.

Victoria employees also are expected to list the demand in reopening their contract.

True Pageantry of Britain Captured by U.S. Painter

British pageantry, seen through the eyes of a young American painter, will go on show at the Moss Street Arts Centre November 18.

The exhibit of 21 paintings is the work of Molly Guion, a young artist from New Rochelle, New York, who was so impressed with what she saw on a two-month visit to Britain that she extended her stay to two years.

FINE EXHIBIT

The wonderful array of portraits brought back to North America has won her much acclaim and the exhibit here is something city art lovers should not miss.

Miss Guion began her painting adventure in England in 1949 when she landed there on a two-month conducted tour with a party of American tourists.

It was at an Eton-Harrow cricket match she became impressed with what she describes as a "part of Old England I thought had gone forever."

Spectators watching the match from the tops of coaches as old as the works of Charles Dickens and top-hatted gentlemen in tight fitting breeches, colored waistcoats and monocles enthralled her.

"It was like something out of a Cruickshanks' illustration within the walls of Lord's cricket grounds," she says.

HER FIRST TASTE

This was the first of Miss Guion's many exposures to dramatic spectacles close to the hearts of the English people.

She was later to see and paint Knights of the Garter, Grenadier and Coldstream Guards in their colorful uniforms, trumpeters, and magistrates, all wearing costumes as old as the offices they held.

In Edinburgh she witnessed a military tattoo and saw for the first time the color and grandeur of Scottish regiments on parade.

All this went onto canvas in beautiful detail.

But it was not all uniform that caught the eye of this young painter.

One of her most impressive and dramatic works is called "Amy, From Cockney London".

The picture is 30 by 24 inches and shows what Miss Guion calls a perfect "London type", at work in a kitchen.

The manner in which she was received by the British people also impressed her and she has incorporated the polite but aloof atmosphere in her work.

"When I wanted to paint a London bobbie, I went straight to a police station and asked the sergeant on duty for the loan of one," she says.

"His reaction to this request indicated he might just have been sitting there waiting for a painter to come and ask just that, and one was dispatched to my studio at once."

PORTRAIT OF VETERAN

What is considered one of the best canvases she did on the tour is a portrait of an 84-year-old Boer War veteran, painted at Royal Chelsea Hospital.

Her subject was a proud independent Irishman named George Murphy and in her painting she has captured all the pride and tradition of the regiment with which he fought.

One of the highlights of her tour was a request from Queen Elizabeth for a private showing of her portraits in Buckingham Palace.

NEAR-DISASTER

Her visit to the palace almost ended in disaster and caused her acute embarrassment at the time, she says.

The day she was to arrive with the pictures she phoned for a car to move them in.

"I thought a station wagon would be adequate, so I ordered one. What I didn't know was that in England station wagons are called 'shooting rakes.'

"At the last minute a huge moving van arrived, but it was too late to change it then, so I arrived at the palace, much to the horror of the guard, in a tremendous truck," she says.

OPENING NOVEMBER 18

The Victoria showing of these paintings will be opened at 2 p.m. November 18 at the Arts Centre by Lieut.-Col. Walter Mosedale, commanding officer of the Canadian Scottish.

The regimental pipe band will play at the opening ceremonies.

Public inspection of the pictures will be from 11 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. daily; 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, and every evening, including Sunday, from 7.30 p.m. to 9.30 p.m.

The length of time the exhibit will be here will be announced later in the week.

Big Lake Ship Takes to Water

MIDLAND, Ont. (CP)—The 25,000-ton T. R. McLagan, believed the largest ship ever built inland for service on inland waters, was launched here Saturday. The 715-foot McLagan is 50 feet longer than any ship now using the Welland Canal. Officials said that Midland Shipward Ltd. workers set a record in building the Canada Steamship Lines bulk carrier, 500 of them taking 41 weeks from keel-laying to the launching.

Safety Should Be Considered In Selecting Bike for Junior

NEW YORK, (NANA) — If you plan to give junior a bicycle for Christmas, here are some helpful hints on how to shop, what to look for and safety rules to teach him.

You should know how to shop for one.

First, make the proper choice of size. Telling your bicycle dealer junior's height will help. If it is at all possible, have him "try it" for size.

For safety sake get a bike that fits — not one he can "grow into." Most bikes are adjustable to take care of growing boys and girls and a bike that fits properly is easy to learn on and easy to control.

HAND BRAKES

If junior is under 10 or 11, it is not wise to buy a bicycle with hand brakes. Young fingers are usually not strong enough to operate them successfully and rapidly if an emergency stop is required. The reverse foot brake is a very much more satisfactory method of stopping a bicycle.

For safety's sake you should make it a point to ride with him on his first rides and impress on him some of the important safty rules of bicycle riding. The first is to be sure and keep close to the curb and, when he is out with his friends, to ride in single file.

BELLS AND LIGHTS

Be sure his bicycle is equipped with bells and lights that work properly. Also that brakes are properly tested to insure that a quick stop can be made. At the beginning, ask him not to ride on heavily traveled roads. Avoid travel by night as much as possible, particularly on roads over which a great deal of traffic passes. Provide him with a ziplock to prevent theft of his valuable equipment. Finally, remind him that a clean and well-maintained bicycle is a safe bicycle.

It is the parent who has the responsibility, in the final analysis, in helping junior to enjoy his bicycle and not abuse the rules of good cycling. Here are some other rules to help junior enjoy his bicycle safely.

1. Do not carry passengers.
2. Always observe traffic regulations, stop signs.
3. Use hand signals to indicate turning and stopping.
4. Do not ride from between parked cars.
5. Keep to the right side of the road.
6. Keep both hands on the handlebars.
7. Keep brakes in good condition.
8. Have proper equipment for night riding.
9. Do not speed in busy sections.
10. Avoid crowds.
11. Give right-of-way to pedestrians and automobiles.
12. Do not ride when tired or ill.
13. Avoid stunt-riding, racing and zig-zagging in traffic.
14. Do not "hitch" rides.
15. Slow down, look and listen at all intersections and driveways.
16. Make bicycle repairs off the road.
17. Dismount and walk across heavy traffic.
18. Make sure bike is in safe operating condition.
19. Always ride carefully.

Teach junior to take good care of his precious bicycle in another way, too. Many bicycles are stolen every year because they are left carelessly outside the home or in front of a shop and an especially good insurance against such theft is a ziplock which is a small but very strong lock with a long plunger which will enable him to lock his bicycle easily and securely.

With these lessons learned junior is opening a vast vista of health and pleasure for himself.

Japanese Trawlers Attacked at Sea

TOKYO (AP)—Five Japanese trawlers were fired on Sunday night by ships of unknown registry in the East China Sea about 100 miles east of the Communist-controlled Cushan Islands, the Japanese coast guard reported Monday. The coast guard said four of the ships reported they fled successfully but that the fifth, a 75-tonner with 13 fishermen aboard, has not be heard from.

King Ibn Saud Dies, Arab World Mourns

CAIRO (UP)—King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia died Monday in his desert palace at Taif and was buried before sunset, by Moslem custom, in his native village of Riyadh where he began 20 years of conquest that made him one of the world's richest men.

Ibn Saud, hailed by his followers as the greatest Arab since the prophet Mohammed unified the warring Bedouins by the sword and in a single generation brought centuries of progress to Saudi Arabia with millions of dollars from its rich oil fields.

Radio stations in Cairo, Damascus, Beirut and Jordan canceled their evening programs after announcement of his death and substituted solemn music or readings from the Koran, the Moslem bible.

Ibn Saud left behind an estate valued in untold millions, some 120 former wives and four widows. Under Moslem law he could have four wives at once and he changed them often under the easy divorce laws. He was reported to have sired more than a hundred sons and daughters, but the exact number is not known.

Crown Prince Emir Saud Ibn Abdul Aziz, 48, pro-western prime minister and commander-in-chief of Saudi Arabia's armed forces, immediately was proclaimed the new king as eldest son of the 73-year-old desert monarch.

The new king's first official decree was the naming of the second oldest son, emir Feisal, as crown prince.

The fabulously wealthy Ibn Saud whose personal income from oil was reported to be more than $100,000,000 a year, had been ailing with arthritis for years. He fell seriously ill only last summer of what European doctors diagnosed as angina pectoris.

Only last month, in reply to a get-well message from Queen Elizabeth, the 6 foot 4 inch King declared his health had "vastly improved."

Ibn Saud, after 20 years of tribal warfare, subdued a kingdom of 700,000 square miles. He began building his kingdom with such modern devices as the telephone, condemned by his advisers as an instrument of the devil but accepted by them when he proved the words of the Koran would travel along its wires.

The once poverty stricken kingdom began its rise in the 1930s. In 1938 its income from oil was about $9,000,000. Last year it was nearer $165,000,000.

India Urges Five Powers Talk Over Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—India proposed Monday that Canada, Britain, the United States, France and Russia conduct private talks on disarmament.

The proposal was made during the UN disarmament debate by V.K. Krishna Menon, who offered the 60-nation UN political committee a watered-down version of the peace plan he outlined last September.

He suggested that the assembly go on record as expressing its desire for elimination of atomic, bacterial and chemical weapons.

Fourteen countries, including Canada, have introduced a resolution calling on the UN disarmament commision to continue efforts to reach agreement.

In September, Menon suggested the assembly come out for a face-to-face meeting of the chiefs of state of the four major powers—Britain, the U.S., France and the Soviet Union. He wanted them to tackle all problems.

Monday he suggested that the same four countries—with Canada added—discuss only the problems of disarmament.

A spokesman said Monday Canada would be willing to sit on such talks if the UN voted in favor of the Indian proposal.

Officer Denies Theft

BRANDON, Man. (BUP)—An Ottawa army captain Monday denied stealing $30,000 worth of shell casings from Camp Shilo, but admitted he was in debt to a scrap metal dealer.

Capt. Martin Franklyn Smith, 34, pleaded not guilty to the charge in fall Assizes here. A statement to provost officers said he went to police as soon as he discovered metal missing.

Smith said he had phoned Alex Starikoff and Bill Dawson of Shragge Scrap Metal Co. when he learned that some shell casings were gone. He added that he had also called the RCMP.

Smith said he had phoned the company officials "to ask what the score was, because if there was a shortage of brass I would be responsible."

Smith admitted borrowing $100 from Dawson last year.

Oddities

SALEM, Ind. (AP)—Radio station WSLM here reports it's revising its idea that radio is the swiftest means of communication in the world.

A woman called the station to get an ad on the air that she'd lost her cow. A few moments later, before WSLM could broadcast her plea for the straying Bossie's return, the woman called back to cancel the ad.

A neighbor listening in on the party telephone line had heard the call, spotted the cow and notified the owner.

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—J. J. Way of Wooler, Ont., found what is believed to be a prehistoric stone knife on his 50-acre farm. Mr. Way said he found the knife 25 years ago but kept it a secret until Monday.

MONTREAL (CP) — Chief Viateur Pilon of the nearby Rigaud police department probably will never hear the end of this:

A penniless-looking man, about 50, walked into the Rigaud police station Friday and was granted lodging for the night. The next morning, Chief Pilon woke up to find the man gone, along with his wallet, identification papers and badge.

Answer Simple To Red Charge

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

BY J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP News Analyst

The Soviet Union, with renewed emphasis on the danger she fears from American bases abroad, has once more opened the door for the Allies to pin her propaganda hide to the wall.

The charge that the American bases surrounding her are evidence of intent to make war has been brought up repeatedly by the Reds. It was a part of the old Stalin line, designed to shroud the well-known fact that the rest of the world was almost completely demobilized when Russian actions produced world re-armament.

As an immediate answer, the Allies merely have to say to Russia:

"All right, let's all agree to withdraw all military forces behind their home boundaries as of August, 1939, and set up a neutral observation and control commission to see that everybody actually does it."

Polio Total In Alberta Sets Record

EDMONTON (BUP) — Alberta's polio total reached record proportions Monday, and puzzled authorities admitted they had "no explanation" of the continued incidence of the disease.

Dr. A. Sommerville, deputy provincial health minister, said efforts were being made to determine why the polio outbreak did not die out at the end of summer.

Health authorities reported 21 new cases Monday, including one death, raising Alberta's total for the year to 1,106 cases, including 76 fatalities.

Edmonton recorded 16 new cases and the death of a four-year-old boy, giving the city its grimmest week end in the current outbreak.

Edmonton set a one-week record last week with 24 cases, and the Calgary and district count climbed for the fifth consecutive week with 18 new cases.

Manitoba authorities reported five new polio cases Monday, bringing the year's total to 2,254. The death toll remained at 81.

In Vancouver, a 28-year-old Quesnel woman died Monday, boosting the province's polio death toll for the year to nine.

In addition to the death, Vancouver health officials reported two new cases, bringing the year's total to 240.

Opposition Defeated In Portugal

LISBON (CP) — Premier Antonio Salazar's National Union party won a 100-per-cent victory in Sunday's Portuguese general elections. All 28 opposition candidates were defeated.

It was the first time in the 25 years since Salazar assumed power in a military uprising in 1926 that his party had any opposition.

It came from the National Civic Movement. In previous voting, the movement had dropped out at the last moment, charging that the election was not free.

Officials estimated that nearly 90 per cent of the 1,161,000 eligible voters had cast ballots. Portugal has a population of 9,000,000.

End of Growth Boom Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — Mankind's big growing boom is nearly over and the earth's population should eventually stabilize at about 4,000,000,000 persons, two scientists said Sunday.

W. S. Woytinsky and his wife, E. S. Woytinsky, reported to the Twentieth Century Fund that although the world's population has quadrupled to about 2,500,000,000 in the last 300 years and there should be about 1,000,000,000 more by the start of the next century, the [illegible] or somewhat more."

They said the United States, northwestern and central Europe, Australia and New Zealand already have fertility rates "substantially below the level required for the permanent maintenance of a stationary population at existing mortality rates, and growth continues only because of the favorable age distribution of the population, which time will alter."

Other nations are approaching the same status, said the Woytinskys.

How many Canadians work for Inco?

"Well, in the city of Sudbury there are upwards of 50,000 people, and 20,000 more in the mining communities around Sudbury. A large proportion of them work for Inco or have jobs that wouldn't exist if it weren't for the nickel mines and plants. Many more work at the great nickel refinery at Port Colborne, Ontario."

"It must cost a lot for wages?"

"Yes, dear, in 1952 the International Nickel Company paid over $65,000,000 in wages and salaries to Canadian workers. And of course thousands more people earned a living producing the food, clothing, furniture and other things bought by nickel employees, and the machinery, equipment, lumber and power used in the nickel mines and plants. So Inco really helps to create employment all over Canada."

Victoria's Harbor Front

MOST cities tend to grow away from their shoreline and spread residentially inland towards the heights, followed by business occupation at a somewhat slower pace. The waterfront becomes the shipping and warehousing area with transportation, retail selling, automotive and other uses next in sequence in fairly well defined stratas. Seattle is a typical example of the manner in which a retail shopping area can move bodily away from the shoreline an avenue at a time. The trend, no doubt, is related to changing land values, and not the evidence of anything so much as the factor of growth. No town can spread towards the sea, without reclamation schemes.

The trend is of interest in Victoria now in view of the efforts to promulgate a better zoning scheme under town planning supervision. The old town clustered around "The Fort" in Sir James Douglas' day. The first fashionable hotels and stores were on the edge of the waterfront. An era of active shipping displaced the old premises one by one. "Government" Street succeeded "Store" Street, and "Douglas" Street, Government Street. "Fort" Street remained well used, and Yates Street came in for attention, followed by Pandora Avenue and so on. In the changing habits and customs of the times, this city "marched," like most other seaports, away from its tidewater basin. The waterfront itself went through many vicissitudes, not always beneficial.

The tourist on landing here sees the Causeway, the Empress Hotel, and the Legislative Buildings. On investigation, however, he may also see other things, including dilapidated blocks, run-down streets and sometimes long abandoned premises. The community has taken much of that condition—it has been improved somewhat within the last five years—for granted. Under intelligent planning and strict zoning development, however, that does not need to be so. Time was, for instance, when an approach to a bridge was regarded as an inevitable deterrent to property values, and therefore to high class property development. Slums used to be the answer. Today they are not.

If it plays its cards right, Victoria has a virtual gold mine in its neglected harbor front in those very areas where dilapidation has been allowed to set in. Property west of Government Street, on which the new $2,000,000 federal building stands, is in almost the most accessible area in town. With zoning its neglected values can be restored. It is anomalous to create slums, within half a mile of the city hall or anywhere else through unwise policies. Slums breed little but mischief.

Beyond Its Ken

UNDETERRED by any doubts as to its omniscience the Saskatchewan section of the CCF has ranged far and wide to pontificate with flat finality. While deploring what it calls western interference in backward countries it has no hesitation in offering free advice to all and sundry on how to manage their affairs. About the complexities of many of the problems it presumes to assess it can have small intimate knowledge, but that seemingly does not matter.

The Saskatchewan CCF is in favor of the admission of Red China to the United Nations as soon as a Korean truce is signed (thus giving swift reward to the slayers of many Canadian and Allied troops). The Formosans, according to the CCF, should vote on being annexed to Communist China. Syngman Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek should be cast aside, says the CCF, and all trade embargoes against Communist Asia lifted.

The resolution passed by this section of the CCF party contains other interesting items, to wit: Great Britain should immediately withdraw its troops from British Guiana and restore the constitution there (and presumably the Communists who were bent on its sabotage). Western powers should leave backward countries alone (thus leaving them easy prey for the self-same Communist aggression). Germany should not be rearmed (it being better apparently that Germans should be defenseless against their fully armed Soviet neighbors). And so on.

When they hear about it, the Kremlin oligarchy is bound to beam with pleasure over this all-embracing, definitive CCF resolution. Had it been framed in Moscow and sent from there to Saskatoon for adoption it would scarcely have read any differently. The Saskatchewan CCF, which views the world through over-simplifying spectacles, exposes itself as very naive.

Littering the Streets

STRICTER supervision is necessary over the loading of firewood trucks to stop the littering of city streets that has become an almost daily occurrence, particularly on those leading away from the woodyards. It is the responsibility of those operating the trucks to see that they do not create a nuisance. If they are not prepared to trim the loads properly before the delivery run begins, then it is up to the city authorities to go after them until they do.

From the look of some of the wood trucks traveling along the streets scattering debris in their wake it is apparent that the drivers have not paid the slightest attention to the security of the loads. Obviously the fuel is tumbled down a chute until it begins to overflow the sides of the truck; then vehicle starts off on a sort of paper chase leaving a trail of wood behind it until all the loose pieces have been shaken off. In places where the trucks have to make a sharp turn it is not uncommon to see firewood scattered over the full width of the street. Some of the blocks are big enough to break the springs of automobiles running over them, and even the small pieces could cause a cyclist a serious spill.

It should not be the job of the city street cleaning department to clear up this unsightly mess; nor should there be any need to if an example were made once in a while of those responsible for it.

Sir,—The latest and perhaps the smallest of any economy yet thought out by any government department in this world: old veterans are now being notified that any money earned by their wives or children by baby-sitting will be deducted from the veteran's allowance, and an accounting must be made to the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE

Sir,—I would like to pay tribute to a most artistic and worthwhile community effort that is taking place every week end and which is receiving almost no support. That is the children's theatre.

Last Saturday afternoon I took my little son to see "Little Red Riding Hood," at the S. J. Willis High School, the show was equal to any I have seen at the Totem or anywhere else in Victoria. The acting was most wonderful and the forest scene equal to Disney Yet there was something lacking—no audience, well almost no audience, only about 100 kiddies and as many parents. It costs little for a kid to attend a show. This is a wonderful thing for little people.

HON. NANCY HODGES

Sir,—There is something increasingly rare but deeply satisfying in the awareness that simple honest and great but humble service has been so early recognized in the elevation to the Senate of British Columbia's Nancy Hodges. No past political adversary of hers can do aught but subscribe to the general knowledge that this signal honor has been deserved thrice over. Few women have given up so much of comfort and transient joy to devote themselves towards betterment of their fellow men and women in a score of varied channels unallied to political aim, as has Nancy Hodges; she has done it happily and wholesomely.

A satisfaction must exist in the realization that her service has been appreciated nationally and will be known internationally more widely. British Columbians salute her for she is well known. Our Senate has been awarded a huge dividend from this province, a dividend that does not take from but gives.

PATRICIA BAY HIGHWAY

Sir,—Re T. Cooper's letter of November 3, regarding the Patricia Bay Highway. He says we were promised a four-lane speedway and all we got is a narrow road with deep ditches on each side. He says why not fill in the ditches and make it a wider, safer road. He further asks "why" the ditches on all new roads. He says what we need is wide, flat roads for safe driving. Does Mr. Cooper know that we get a wet season in this country and if we listened to him we would be worse off than ever; because without proper elevation and good drainage we never will have roads. The man who planned and built those roads knew how to build them to stand all kinds of weather.

What we need on Patricia Bay Highway and elsewhere is 100% good drivers, then our roads will be safe to drive on.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings"

By TOM TAYLOR

I CLIMBED the cobbled slope from the Mound, crossed the Esplanade and passed within the Castle walls, rounded the Lang Stairs and went up the hill to Foggy Gate, and so on into Palace Yard.

The Crown Jewels and the shade of Mary Queen of Scots beckoned me across the Close, but I paid no heed. They could come later. So could the Great Hall, with its collection of arms and armor, and the barrack block that houses a military museum.

I had a date with remembrance, and it lay within the Scottish National War Memorial—the Flowers o' the Forest cast in stone.

Long, actually, I had waited this moment. Each succeeding Armistice Day during the sacred silence my thoughts would turn swiftly to the far-off Judean Hills, where lies a boy I knew in the full flower of his galliard youth. Some day, I hoped, I would visit the memorial that sanctified him and one hundred thousand others.

Now that day had come.

* * *

I entered the arched doorway, past the carved lines of the Hundred and Twenty-Fourth Psalm, and stepped into the Hall of Honor, the long vaulted corridor that instantly quiets the spirit. Regimental flags made vivid contrast with white stone. A frieze of battle names, in great capital letters, merged the past with the present.

As though drawn by magnet I moved unerringly to one of the twelve regimental bays. Here are the stone and bronze monuments to Scottish regiments. On the wall of each is a panel inscribed with the crest and history of the regiment in names, dates and battle honors. On the flanks are the Colors. Below each panel is a stone table, on which rests the roll of the dead. The book of my pilgrimage was that of the HLI, with more than ten thousand names listed in its typewritten pages. These become so frayed by reverent, trembling fingers they have to be replaced periodically. I turned the pages with sad eagerness. There was the entry I sought, cold and clear in plain simplicity.

"James Campbell."

* * *

What burning memories answered the sight of that name. We had been at school together, had shouldered twin rifles as though preordained, had played and sang and quarreled o'er many a year.

James Campbell. A buoyant lad, intelligent, brilliant even, deft of mind and hand. How filled he was with promise.

He was fastidious, yet once wore a shirt for 42 straight days without complaint. He slept easily, yet would keep double firestep watch that another might rest.

Once a bullet nicked him as he stooped over a parados tea-kettle, and he couldn't sit down for two days. We all laughed heartily, saying he deserved it for having his back to the enemy.

Well do I remember when we bathed at Ghurka Bluff until Turkish shells sent us splashing for cover, and the day near Gaza when we ate unwisely among the orange groves. Etched clearly, too, are the hills of Judea, over which he was not to go. It was there that he rose too soon from behind a sheltering boulder.

He was but twenty, with three years of war behind him, when he was killed.

I touched his name and closed the HLI volume of the dead. Jimmy never knew of Armistice Day, but perhaps he knows of this book and of our remembrance. Inside the Shrine with its Casket and Cross of Sacrfice the figure of St. Michael hovered in benediction, and as I turned to leave the Archangel seemed to nod in tender understanding.

Canada Reaches South

Nine Hours to Mexico

By SETH HALTON

IN these years of rapidly developing air travel Canada is still seeking senior status and gradually she is attaining it. Progress is slow, to be sure. The total route miles of our two major airlines combined is still only approximately equal to that of the United States' huge Pan-American line alone. But nevertheless, Canada is progressing.

That fact was never clearer to me than recently when I took off, with 15 other newspaper and radio men, as a guest on the inaugural flight to Mexico City and Lima, Peru, of Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Inauguration of the new flight marked another step in Canadian Pacific's growing importance in aviation on the Pacific Ocean side of the continent. As well as their numerous north-south Canadian routes the pioneers of Canadian transportation already have scheduled flights to Honolulu, Australia and New Zealand, and to China and Japan. The southern route to Mexico and Peru is actually an extension of that from Hong Kong to Tokyo to Vancouver and is designed, primarily, to carry Oriental workers to fill the large demand for labor that exists in South America.

* * *

So far the route ends in Lima. But if a bi-lateral agreement can be completed between the Canadian and Brazilian governments—and it probably can be—the terminal will be Rio de Janiero, the biggest market for Oriental labor that South America has.

As CPA develops on the Pacific, Trans-Canada Air Lines continues to move ahead on routes over the Atlantic, which is its unwritten sphere of influence. Trans-Canada has long had scheduled flights to Great Britain and Europe, and, in the southern area, to Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica and Trinidad. It was expected that by now they too would be operating to Mexico from Eastern Canada via Tampa, Florida, but the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board, presumably under pressure from competing U.S. lines, just recently denied TCA the right to disembark passengers at Tampa and so the service has been delayed.

Whether or not Canada's retaliatory actions against U.S. lines will end the deadlock remains to be seen.

* * *

Meanwhile, Canadian Pacific has actually started carrying workers, businessmen and tourists to Latin-America, and for tourists it is a trip I can recommend. The return fare to Mexico City is $314. The second-class rate in the same aircraft is $50 less, though the difference between first and second-class accommodation is small, and both are comfortable. I well recall covering a similar distance once in a military aircraft that had only bucket seats. And when they were young my parents covered another similar distance not in hours, but in six weeks. . . . But this is the air age.

Our big DC-6B, the Empress of Lima, took off from Vancouver at midnight and less than nine hours' flying time later—11 by the clock because it's a fallacy to think that Mexico is straight south of Victoria—landed in Mexico City.

* * *

We traveled first class and it was a luxurious 2,500-mile flight. Soon after take-off two charming stewardesses, one French-Canadian and one Mexican, served champagne and sandwiches to those who wanted refreshments, and we went to sleep in comfortable, reclining seats.

When I awoke we were less than two hours out of Monterrey, the industrial centre of the country, with a population tripled since 1940 to nearly 400,000 people. The air strip gleamed below us in the bright morning sun and beyond it the rugged and arid sage bush country took more definite shape. It made me think of cowbody movies, with Tom Mix sliding his horse down a cliff, dodging both cactus plants and bullets from the rustlers in hot pursuit.

The illusion didn't last long though. As we flew south the mountains got higher, to nearly 10,000 feet. Then suddenly they dropped behind and we were over the Great Mexican Plain, a flat, dry-looking area some 60 miles in diameter surrounded by flat-topped and inactive volcanic hills.

Almost in its centre, white and sparkling from the air, was Mexico City.

(This is the first of a series of articles. Tomorrow Mr. Halton will give his impressions of Mexico City.)

Under the Clock

Three Days of Confusion

By RAY BAINES, City Hall Reporter

"THAT," said Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich last week, "was the worst-run convention I've ever attended." He was talking about the Union of B.C. Municipalities conference held in Vancouver late in October.

Having covered the meeting of municipal representatives for this paper, I'm inclined to go along with Reeve Casey. It was badly run and painfully involved.

The union was organized (like the labor unions its member municipalities must deal with) to present a solid front to a higher authority—in this case the provincial government. The collective voice of hundreds of B.C. cities, municipalities, towns and villages is heard and heeded. Most of the resolutions passed by the union deal with amendments to the antiquated Municipal Act in order to meet changing conditions.

They deal with taxation authority, borrowing powers, government grants and hundreds of other things which directly affect the daily lives—and the pocketbooks—of municipal taxpayers.

The municipal representatives, then, who meet to discuss these collective needs should expect to find some semblance of order in the conduct of this business.

Not so at the UBCM convention this year. A good deal of time was wasted with procedural wrangles. It could have been put to better use on the municipal problems at hand.

They used a system of rotating chairmen, few of whom knew how to conduct a big meeting. There were no ballots available when the election of officers came around.

The PA system (with only one microphone on the floor for nearly 300 delegates to use) worked only about a third of the time. The rules of order (each delegate announcing his name and municipality, and speaking for no more than a minute, etc.) were not observed by delegates nor enforced by the chair.

And so it went for three days. These are only a few of the mechanical and physical difficulties faced by the delegates. They couldn't see what was going on, they couldn't hear what people said, they didn't know what to expect nor how to deal with it when it came.

And this organization representa about 95 per cent of the people of B.C. and a large part of its assets.

Reports From Ottawa

THE government likely will ask members of Parliament soon to undertake the not unpleasant task of voting themselves increases in pay.

The cabinet has long agreed in principle that members of the Commons deserve more than $6,000 a year for what has become practically a full-time job.

The main objection has been that there seemed to be no way to give the commoners the pay boost they deserve without giving the senators a similar increase which they don't deserve.

But now a formula has been suggested. Under it members of the Commons, who get a sessional indemnity of $4,000 plus a $2,000-a-year tax-free allowance, would have their indemnity boosted to $8,000. They would retain their present tax-free expense allowance.

Senators get the same $4,000 indemnity and $2,000 allowance as commoners, except that it's all taxable. Under the formula, the expense allowance for senators would be withdrawn on the ground that they don't have to meet election expenses. But the senators would share with the commoners the benefit of the doubling of the $4,000 indemnity.

The net result would be that while the indemnity for membership in each house would be $8,000, the commoners would get an extra $2,000 tax free.

* * *

For all the moribundity of the Red Chamber, it behooves Prime Minister St. Laurent to move cautiously in a matter which affects the senior solons so personally.

While the Tory and Labor parties in Britain wrangle over whether the authority of the House of Lords to block legislation should carry a time limit of a year or nine months, in this country the Senate has unlimited authority to block Commons bills.

The fact that the Senate very rarely uses this power holds out no promise that if the senators became wrathful—as they might if they weren't included in a parliamentary pay boost—they wouldn't blast the Commons' hopes.

They couldn't vote themselves increases, for by the constitution only the government can initiate money bills. But they could refuse to pass a bill which gave only the commoners a pay boost, as they privately threatened to do in 1945, when the government's original intention was to provide an expense allowance only for members of the Commons.

* * *

Aside altogether from the question of whether a man's services in the Commons are worth $10,000 a year to the nation, there's the undeniable fact that able men who should be attracted into lawmaking often cannot afford to make the financial sacrifice which the present salary of an MP entails.

Mackenzie King was a past master at enticing men with half-promises of elevation to cabinet rank or other posts in his gift. But either St. Laurent isn't as adroit as King at such carrot-dangling, or men of Commons timber are less impressed by such prospects of future reward.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

DESPITE the great numbers of people, many of them influential, who are now banded more or less loosely together all over North America in field naturalist associations, this generation is likely to be the witness to the extermination of two more species.

They are the ivory-billed woodpecker and the whooping crane.

The ivory-billed woodpecker is larger than our pileated woodpecker, and much more spectacularly colored and marked. Florida and South Carolina are the last areas where it has been seen. Some naturalists believe it has already gone for good, within the past couple of years.

The whooping crane is now enumerated. The census shows 31 at the sanctuary established for them in Texas. They fly north each spring to Saskatchewan. Great white birds, with loud calls, they little realize what a responsibility is theirs as they fly the thousands of miles across states and provinces filled with all manner of men. Thirty-one of them, the last!

In 1912, there were 88 by the best count. Since the Texas winter sanctuary was set up, there have been increases and declines in their numbers. But it is very doubtful if all the influence, political and educational, of all the hundreds of thousands or even millions of interested people in the United States and Canada could do much to stem the fate that almost surely awaits them—not guns alone, but the invasion of their breeding range by hungry man in search of metal, timber, power, land.

Harold Todd, 1402 Andrews Road, announced Monday that he will seek a seat on Saanich municipal council.

Mr. Todd was an unsuccessful candidate last year.

"Although I didn't win, I had considerable support," he said Monday.

He is a mail carrier and has lived in Saanich and Victoria for 12 years.

He is married and has two boys, one seven years old and the other one-and-a-half.

He is a member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Housing Blamed for Girl's Death

thing in a people with a low standard of living."

He explained that it was not uncommon for three families to live together in one, two or three rooms, and on week ends there is nothing unusual for two more families with undetermined numbers to drop in.

He said the Indian department has rebuilt a few homes, but even these were not properly lined and all of the older homes are not lined at all.

The doctor remarked that it was a sad day for the Indians when the government allowed them to buy liquor in beer parlors. "A lot of damage was done when this move was instigated," he said.

WATER LACKING

Dr. Roberts said there was a lack of sanitation on the reserve which was aggravated by a ridiculously inadequate water supply.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP for Esquimalt-Saanich, remarked on the water shortage in the reserve two years ago at the opening of the new Indian school. He said that the band had the poorest water conditions he had ever seen on a reserve. Nothing has been done to improve the situation so far, band spokesmen say.

Some have to walk almost a quarter of a mile for their drinking water.

You have to see it to believe it, Arthur Ash, Liberal candidate in the recent provincial election, said after a tour of the Henry home just before the election.

Four adults and three children, including two under two years of age, live in the one room which makes up the Henry dwelling.

The family has been begging for a new house for more than a year, but nothing has been done about it. The building was condemned when Delores' great-grandfather was the owner, and the department promised the Henrys a new home 12 years ago, Indian spokesmen claim.

A simple frame house, it has only weather-beaten, one-inch boards to keep the inhabitants from the weather, and sometimes it can't even do that.

Daylight shows through at almost every joint, and water pours into the room during every rain. Cardboard has been recruited to take the place of the usual beaverboard or plaster for the interior lining, and has even been used to replace worn shingles.

An ancient cast-iron stove at one end of the room is the only means of heating.

FEAR FOR CHILDREN

Those living in the Henry house are particularly afraid for the younger children's welfare. Both are suffering from colds, a common ailment during Delores' short life.

The Henrys are not the only members of the band in need of better and more spacious housing.

Ivan Morris' house looks small but well-built from the outside, but an inside inspection discloses that the building has not been insulated and it, too, has only one-inch boards to keep out the cold and the damp.

Ivan is at present confined to the TB hospital at Nanaimo, while his wife supports herself, her two children and a brother and a sister in the 14-by-18-foot room on $11 a month.

To help out the family budget she knits sweaters. It takes her two weeks to complete a sweater and then she gets $14 to $15 for it.

The worst thing about this necessary knitting is that she has to wash and dry the wool in the same room where the family eats and sleeps. The hot, damp air during the washing period is almost unbearable to the outsider.

Mr. Morris, youngest daughter is also recuperating from an attack of pneumonia.

While the Indians may be [illegible] under one roof, in many cases it is necessary to share the heat and expenses. The older members of the band particularly cannot afford to live alone.

There are at least 10 houses which have been put up by the Indian department which have never been completed. The outside frame is erected and the inside finishing, so necessary for warmth, is left undone.

"Any improvements other than the bare necessities have to come from their own meagre earnings," Chief Paull said bitterly. "Even the paint for the outside of the house is not supplied."

The Indians at the reserve believe the department is supposed to keep the homes in a reasonable state of repair. But a look at the piece of ragged canvas nailed to Mrs. Agnes Smith's roof to keep out the rain is plain evidence that this is not done.

As Mr. Ash said, you have to see it to believe it.

Chief Paull remarked at the end of a tour through the reserve. "If they don't believe you, tell them to come on out. We've got the proof."

Believe it or not ...
this could be you!

The man whose picture belongs here is not necessarily a celebrity or a leading citizen. Indeed, he might be any one of millions of Canadians.

How did so many people benefit their communities so greatly? Simply by insuring their lives! In this way, they set in motion a series of events which have far-reaching effects on themselves and their fellow-citizens.

Take for instance the new highways, schools, bridges, power plants, homes, hotels, hospitals and other important works now being built from coast to coast. Many of these projects have been financed with money which life insurance companies have invested for their policyholders.

Or look at the workers streaming out from some new industrial plant. They may owe their jobs to life insurance policyholders who provide the money needed for investment in that plant's expansion.

Good health, too, is promoted by life insurance policyholders. Several important medical research projects, supported by life insurance company funds, are waging war against polio, heart ailments, cancer and other dread diseases.

But perhaps the life insurance owner's most important service is not any of these things. It is the way he provides for his family so that they will not be a financial burden to his relatives or the community.

So, if you own life insurance, be proud that in all these ways you're helping to make Canada a better land to live in!

Old Friends May Explain To Reluctant Americans

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The United States Army may use sergeants, corporals and even some old buddies as "explainers" when it begins its own "come home" talks with 22 Americans possibly early next month.

Since the United Nations command feels that all but a handful of these prisoners are confused, unhappy dupes of the Communists, the idea is to make the interviews as friendly and reassuring as possible.

None of this information is official yet, but it is believed that level-headed NCOs, particularly old friends, might have more influence than strange officers.

The United Nations repatriation group knows that the Reds have been priming the 22 to expect officers and to bait them.

One reason for delaying the interviews is that with the small number of men to be interviewed, it will be possible — unless the prisoners duplicate the violence of the anti-Communists — to take considerable pains with each man.

This means talking to friends and families, getting letters, recorded messages on tape, and obtaining anything to relieve each one of his fears.

A second reason is that the prisoners are going to have more time to think their problem out.

Kidnap Victim Returned

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — The young parents of a week-end kidnapping victim got their baby boy back Monday in a touching family scene on a southern Oklahoma doorstep.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duane Stammer didn't say a word. The pretty mother folded the baby in her arms, her sailor husband wrapped them both in his and for three brief minutes they shut out the world.

A registered nurse handed over the baby, chubby, five-month-old Richard Lee Stammer, on the steps of a home to which he was taken when found Sunday night in a rickety farm house.

A 17-year-old baby-sitter, Mrs. Tommie Dene Doughty, was arrested Sunday night by the FBI and charged with kidnapping. The baby was taken from its Evansville, In., home Friday night.

Stammer, 20-year-old sailor, and his wife, Shirley, 18, were too choked up at the recovery of their only child to say more than a few words of gratitude.

"I never thought I'd see my baby alive," said Mrs. Stammer. The Stammers flew here from Evansville.

The charge against Mrs. Doughty carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment upon conviction.

Mrs. Doughty was taken into custody shortly after she arrived at the farm home of her father, north of Bokchita in southeast Oklahoma. The FBI said she told her parents that the baby was hers.

"In a way I'm glad it's over but I still wish I could keep him for a few days," Mrs. Doughty told a reporter.

Airlines Carry More But Profits Lower

OTTAWA (CP)—Net operating revenues of Canadian airlines showed sharp declines in June and during the first six months of 1953, the bureau of statistics said Monday.

Net operating revenues for June dropped to $1,065,000 from $1,230,000 in the same month last year, a decrease of $165,000. For the six-month period they fell to $278,000 from $1,670,000, a drop of $1,392,000.

Gross operating revenues of air carriers rose to $45,619,000 in the January-June period from $41,296,000 a year ago. In June these revenues advanced to $[illegible] as against $8,443,000 last year.

Operating expenses, however, rose to $45,341,000 from $39,627,000 for the half-year period, and to $8,823,000 from $7,213,000 for the month.

Trican Drilling At Bonnyville

Trican Petro-Chemical Corporation's 20 well drilling program on 4,400-acre farm out in the Bonnyville, Alberta area is well under way.

The first well drilled, Trican Bonnyville No. 5, is reported as a successful commercial producer. Drilling of the second well, Trican Bonnyville No. 6, has started and the location of Trican Bonnyville well No. 7 has been selected.

The well sites are immediately adjacent to the new Bonnyville Oil Refinery, from whom Canadian National Railways purchase bunker "C" fuel oil.

Month-End Lag In Oil Output

CALGARY (CP)—Crude oil producers in Alberta last week averaged 181,940 barrels daily from 4,364 wells.

This figure compared to the previous week shows a decrease of 63,890 barrels per day, but an increase of 39,971 barrels daily over the same period a year ago.

Last week's production was affected by the usual month-end cutback by many producers to stay in line with the allowable set by the board.

Only five fields increased their daily output, while one remained the same. Fields recording an increase, were: Erskine, Lloydminister, South Camrose, Stettler, and Turner Valley.

Taxes Too High, Abbott Abstains

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott, a non-smoker, thinks cigarette taxes are "too high" but that doesn't mean he'll cut them.

Offered a cigarette at a week-end party, Mr. Abbott lightly replied:

"No, thanks, can't afford 'm. The taxes are too high."

Asked if that means he will reduce taxes, the minister replied:

"That's a big question. My usual slogan is — 'tax 'em, but don't use 'em'."

Car Sales Slip in September

OTTAWA (CP) — Sales of new motor vehicles slipped in September for the first time this year, declining to $75,755,000 from $78,771,000 a year ago.

However, the total for the first nine months of 1953 was still sharply higher than 1952, swelling to $943,362,000 — up about $166,000,000 from $777,778,000, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Total vehicles sold in September slipped to 30,029 from 31,936 last year. This had little impact on the nine-month total which rose to 375,897 from 309,464.

Branch in Vancouver

An All-Canadian Company in over 60 cities

New Issue

$5,000,000
North Star Oil Limited
(Incorporated under the laws of Canada)
5½% Sinking Fund Debentures, Series A

To be dated November 15, 1953 To mature November 15, 1968

Principal and half-yearly interest (May 15 and November 15) and redemption premium, if any, will be payable in lawful money of Canada at any branch in Canada (far northern branches excepted) of the Company's bankers. The Debentures will be issued in coupon form in the denominations of $1,000 and $500 registrable as to principal only in Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Halifax and Saint John, and in fully registered form in the denominations of $1,000 and authorized multiples thereof.

The Company will covenant to establish a Sinking Fund for the Debentures of this issue and to pay to the Trustee on November 15 in each of the years 1955 to 1967 inclusive the sum of $250,000. The Sinking Fund is designed to retire 65% of the Debentures of this issue by maturity.

The Debentures will be redeemable in whole or at any time in part at the option of the Company or through the operation of the Sinking Fund.

Stock Purchase Warrants

The Series A Debentures, when originally issued in definitive form, will have attached thereto Stock Purchase Warrants entitling the holders thereof to purchase Class A shares in the capital stock of the Company at any time after January 15, 1954 and on or before November 15, 1958, on the basis of 40 such Class A shares (as presently constituted) for each $1,000 principal amount of Debentures, at the price of $10 per share payable in cash.

The Class A Shares without nominal or par value are entitled in each year to a fixed cumulative preferential cash dividend at the rate of 60c per share and in addition to participate equally with the Common Shares after dividends aggregating 60c per share have been paid in such year on the Common Shares outstanding. The rights, restrictions, conditions and limitations attaching to these Class A Shares are more fully set out in the prospectus.

Trustee—The Toronto General Trusts Corporation

In the opinion of Counsel, the Debentures of this issue will be investments in which the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act states that companies registered under Part III thereof may, without availing themselves of the provisions of sub-section (4) of Section 63 of the said Act, invest their funds.

The Company

North Star Oil Limited was incorporated in 1919 and over the past 35 years has been engaged in the refining, distributing and marketing of a wide range of petroleum products throughout the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and north-western Ontario. Sales of petroleum products for 1952 amounted to 85,000,000 gallons for a total value of $18,000,000—the highest in the Company's history. The Company owns 380 bulk plants consisting of a warehouse, storage tanks and pumping equipment for wholesale distribution of its products. These plants serve the commercial and agricultural trade and supply 105 Company owned service stations and approximately 600 independently owned service stations and garages.

Proceeds of this issue are to be applied for general corporate purposes and towards the construction of a new 8,000 barrel per day catalytic refinery at St. Boniface, Manitoba in order to meet expanding demands, to effect economies of operation and to bring production facilities in line with its growing marketing organization.

We, as principals, offer these 5½% Sinking Fund Debentures, Series A, subject to prior sale, if, as and when issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of all legal matters by our Counsel, Messrs. Blake, Anglin, Osler & Cassels, Toronto, and by Counsel for the Company, Messrs. Pitblado, Hoskin, Grundy, Bennest & Drummond-Hay, Winnipeg.

Price: 100 and accrued interest to yield 5½%

It is expected that interim Debentures, later exchangeable for definitive Debentures with Stock Purchase Warrants attached, will be available for delivery on or about November 16, 1953.

A prospectus, a copy of which has been filed under the provisions of the Companies Act (Canada), will be furnished promptly on request.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices made little headway in dull trade. Oats and barley were slightly higher, while flax and rye closed irregularly.

No information was available on export loadings of Canadian wheat. Prices for the top grades of class two, IWA and domestic wheat — except class two durums — dropped one-eigth cent from Friday. Class two durums were unchanged.

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans spurted several cents at one time, all contracts either equalling previous seasonal highs or setting new ones. Other grains firmed.

Wheat enjoyed an early run up on news about one third of the 1953 crop had been impounded under U.S. government price support programs.

Wall Street Favors Dogs And Blue Chips

NEW YORK (UP) — The stock market featured the blue chips and the dogs.

Between these classifications was a long list of narrow-moving, moderately active stocks.

Corn products, considered a blue chip leader, ran up more than 2 points to a new high. Plentiful and low-priced corn was helping that stock now being sought by institutions.

Other strong investment favorites included Ingersoll-Rand, General Electric, Minnesota Mining, Allied Chemical, American Agricultural Chemical, Hooker Electro Chemical, Lily Tulip Cup, U.S. Gypsum, and Ruberoid — all up 1 to more than 2 points.

Papers Strongest

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were mixed after a session of moderate trading.

Golds and western oils made small gains and industrials were down less than a point. Base metals took the biggest loss. Uraniums were lower.

Utilities, agricultures, liquors and foods were the downward elements on the industrials' list. Papers, and manufactures were the strongest.

Base metals lost ground with a wide list of losing seniors. Noranda and Falconbridge slipped a half-dollar each. Junior losses were small.

Western oils were higher. General made 50 cents, but most gains were less. Nearly all the losses were about the 10-cent mark or lower. Merrill, Central Explorers and Federated were all up.

Uraniums began their second losing week with a fairly wide list of lower prices.

Golds showed a rise on the closing indexes. Juniors gained a little, seniors were mixed and holding companies were lower.

Aconic Advances

MONTREAL (CP) — An irregularly lower trend ruled. Trading was slow.

Papers, utilities, steels and miscellaneous industrials were lower while banks were higher. Senior oils and senior metals were generally mixed while beverages failed to register any changes.

Mines were mixed in moderate trading. Aconic established a new high when it rose 25 cents to $2.70 while in the opposite column consolidated Rochette dropped ½ for a new low of 8.

Uraniums Sag

VANCOUVER. An advance to 86 cents in Pacific Nickel was an odd bright spot in a listless market. Taylor Bridge also showed some strength at 30 cents, but most mines drifted lower.

Western Tungsten sagged 8 cents to 1.02, and giant Mascot bid was lowered to 47 cents. The uraniums were out of favor with Beaverlodge, Nesbitt Labine and National Exploration all trading lower.

Oils made little trade but were mostly steady.

Among industrials, Alberta Distillers moved back 19 cents to 2.06. MacMillan and Bloedel was $18¾.

Textile Industry's Position Difficult

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

While most Canadian industrial and manufacturing companies are either increasing their dividend payments in 1953 or are maintaining them at the high 1952 levels, this is not the case with the textiles.

The textile industry is the sick man on the Canadian scene, and apart from artificial aids it seems incapable of competing foreign manufacturers who have infinitely lower labor and overhead costs.

Sign of the times for the Canadian manufacturers is the announcement that for the second time in succession Bruck Mills is being forced to pass its dividend on its "A" or preferred stock.

Bruck Mills since 1948 has paid $1.20 a year in quarterly installments of 30 cents. It broke the sequence with the September dividend, and this week announced that the December payments also was being passed.

STILL TIME TO BUY

The sale of the eighth series of Canada Savings Bonds goes on at a pace to suggest that it will break all records for this security.

An important point for intending purchasers is that until November 16—next Monday—they may be purchased without adding any accrued interest.

A. E. Ames and Co. points out that although the interest at the rate of 3¾ per cent accrues from November 1, the interest is not charged to purchases at any time up to November 16.

NO WILLS BY MINORS

The extension of the franchise in B.C. to include the 19-year-olds is certain to raise some federal-provincial anomalies.

One pointed out to me this week is in respect of wills. While the 19-year-old in B.C. may record his vote, he has to wait another two years before the common law of the country will allow him to make a will.

In these days when people start making money at an alarmingly youthful age, and at the same time expose themselves to hazards of the highway and other dangerous ways of life, this may be something for our lawmakers to cogitate.

It might, with some wisdom, be argued that the minor — which is everyone under 21 years of age—should be permitted to have some say in what he would like to do with the money he has earned himself.

At the moment, he has to wait until he is 21 to make his will, and in some cases that is too late.

Another aspect of will-making, upon which the Canada Trust Company digresses in its October bulletin, is the not commonly known fact that a witness may not be a beneficiary to the will, or the husband or wife of a beneficiary.

If that happens, the will may be valid in all other respects that the benefit or legacy to the witness is void.

The Canada Trust is probably quite sound in believing that most people are shockingly badly informed on the question of wills.

They point out that Chief Justice Vinson, of the U.S. supreme court—who ought to have known better if anyone did—left no valid will because papers which purported to be wills were not properly witnessed.

"Any young man looking around to start a career, would be a chump to leave Canada today and go to the United States. Canada has become a great industrial nation with a growth potential far greater than any section of the U.S. I can't see any let up in its progress"—Dwight P. Joyce, president of Glidden Paint Company in U.S. and Glidden Paint Company in Canada.

Baseball Is Sport U.S. Court Rules; Clubs Win Victory

BY HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baseball won a major victory Monday when the Supreme Court ruled for the second time that, in the eyes of U.S. federal law, the game is a sport and not an interstate business.

This means that baseball cannot be challenged in the courts as an illegal monopoly and that the game's controversial reserve clause will stay on the books, unless Congress does something about it.

Representative Kenneth Keating, chairman of the monopoly sub-committee of the House of Representatives judiciary committee, said in the wake of the decision that he knows of no legislation in the works to put baseball under the anti-trust laws or to exempt it specifically.

He said, however, it is possible the Supreme Court decision might lead to introduction of a bill that would clarify how Congress stands on the issue.

TWO DISSENTERS

Chief Justice Earl Warren read Monday's brief opinion, to which two justices dissented. It was a "per curiam" decision, that is, one issued by the court rather than over the signature of an individual justice. The court split 7 to 2 on the question.

Justice Harold Burton issued a vigorous dissent in which Justice Stanley Reed concurred.

Justice Burton, in his dissent, maintained that baseball today is immeasurably different from baseball as it was played in 1922 and that:

"Congress, however, has enacted no express exemption of organized baseball from the Sherman anti-trust act, and no court has demonstrated the existence of an implied exemption from the act of any sport that is so highly organized as to amount to interstate monopoly or which restrains interstate trade or commerce."

The majority decision held that there is no reason to reverse the Supreme Court ruling of 1922, written by the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, in which it was decided unanimously that baseball is not subject to anti-trust laws.

"We think," Warren said, "that if there are evils in this fieled which now warrant application to it of the anti-trust laws, it should be by legislation."

BASEBALL MEN HAPPY

Baseball men, from commissioner Ford Frick on down, were highly pleased.

"Now the atmosphere has been cleared," Frick said. "From now on the responsibility is ours of modernizing baseball."

Three cases were before the high court in appeals on behalf of George Toolson, a former farm player for New York Yankees; Walter J. Kowalski, a former Brooklyn farm player, and Jack Corbett, former owner of the El Paso, Tex., minor league club.

Lower courts had dismissed the actions of Toolson, Kowalski and Corbett on the precedent of the 1922 decision.

Football Claims Immunity

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Professional football claims the same immunity from federal anti-trust laws as baseball, a National Football League counsel said Monday.

Thomas Hart, one of seven defence lawyers for the NFL against government charges that the league's radio and television policy violated the Sherman Act, said he was greatly encouraged by Monday's U.S. Supreme Court decision on baseball.

Sunday score: Seattle 6, New Westminster 3.

Next games tonight: VICTORIA at Vancouver; Seattle at Calgary; Edmonton at Saskatoon.

Victoria Cougars, who had their seven-game unbeaten streak in the Western Hockey League snapped by New Westminster Royals Saturday night, will attempt to climb aboard the win van tonight at Vancouver when they meet the Canucks, a team they've had little success with so far this season.

In three games with Vancouver, Cougars have salvaged only one point of a possible six and have managed to put the puck behind little Lorne Worsley only three times. Vancouver won the first game, 2-1; took the second at Memorial Arena, 4-1, and were held to a 1-1 tie in the third meeting.

Only player news to come from the Cougar camp Monday night was that Alex Kuzma, who hasn't seen much action since he joined the club, will definitely play tonight. Tony Schneider again won't dress for the crucial contest.

CAN CATCH SEATTLE

A victory for the Cougars would move them back into a fourth-place tie with Seattle, who trimmed New Westminsters Royals, 6-3, in the only WHL action Sunday night. The Canucks, who have lost only once, will be seeking their 12th victory in 16 games.

Bombers, who tied Vancouver 4-4 Saturday night, had to come from behind a 2-0 first-period deficit to grab the victory. It was 4-2 for the winners at the end of the second session and they outscored Royals by the odd goal in the third period.

Bobby Love picked up assists on two of the losers' goals to move into a four-way tie for second place in the individual scoring race with 19 points. Lorne Nadeau paced Bombers with two goals.

Rams, 49'ers And Detroit Again in Tie

San Francisco 49'ers scored their second straight last-ditch victory over Los Angeles Sunday as a touchdown in the final two minutes gave them a 31-27 decision over the Rams to force a three-way tie in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

Victory put the 49'ers into a tie with the Rams and Detroit Lions, who defeated Baltimore Colts, 17-7, Saturday.

In the Eastern Conference, Cleveland Browns racked up their seventh straight victory by coming from behind for a 34-16 decision over Pittsburgh Steelers. That left them two-and-a-half games ahead of Philadelphia Eagles, who crushed New York Giants 30-7.

Week end scores follow:

SATURDAY

Baltimore 7, Detroit 17.

SUNDAY

WIL Delegates Here for Crucial Meeting

Kins Host Westerns Saturday

Victoria Kins, who showed surprising promise although dropping a 54-50 decision to Alberni Athletics in their only start this season, face another stern test Saturday night when they play host to Vancouver New Westerns in a men's senior "A" basketball game at Oak Bay Junior High School.

An entrant in the fast Vancouver senior "A" league, New Westerns are rebuilding with a speedy young club that has created a favorable impression in the young season. Winners in three pre-season contests, the Mainlanders have won one and lost one game in league competition.

NO CHANGES

Kins' coach Bosher Jackson is planning no changes in the lineup that waged a valiant battle against the Athletics. Although Norm Baker has been turning out for practice and reports no trouble from an old leg enjury, Jackson plans to bring the great forward along slowly to minimize chances of aggravating the injury that kept Baker out of action a year ago.

Still without big Johnny Clark, Jackson is not worried about the club's centre position. Nanaimo's Buzz Jacklin and smooth George Woollett handled the pivot berth exceptionally well in the Alberni game.

Ready for action for the Vancouver Island champions will be a speedy set of hoopsters who promise to give Victoria its fastest senior basketball club in several years.

CHOICE AVAILABLE

For the remainder of his lineup Jackson can choose from Elmer Curtis, Ralph Anderson, George Denison, Gordie Jones, Gerry Parker, Bill Bamford, Don Hendry, and set-shot artist Howie Tooby.

In a preliminary game, Victoria's King Realty senior "A" girls will face the Vancouver Kitsilano Club, which lost out in Vancouver playoffs last year to the Canadian-champion Eilers squad.

Tolson Scores First Upset In Shuttle Play

Dune Tolson pulled the first upset of the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's annual shuttle championships Monday night by knocking off fourth-seeded Reg Hoadley, 15-11, 5-15, 15-10, in a first-round match.

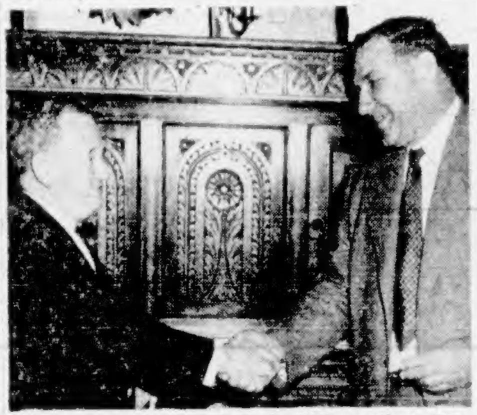
INTERNATIONAL SOCCER

BILBAO, Spain (Reuters)—Spain and Sweden played a 2-2 tie in an international soccer match here Sunday.



Pleasant interlude to lengthy WIL meetings was provided at Gyro Club luncheon when Reg Patterson, business manager of Victoria Tyees, presented popular Archie McKinnon with lifetime pass to all home games of the Victoria club. McKinnon, an ardent fan who follows almost every sport closely, had just been presented with the Sid Thomas Memorial Trophy as the outstanding amateur athletic figure of the 1952-53 sports season.

Coast's Connie Mack, Bob Brown Bows Out

BY DOUG PEDEN

Robert P. Brown, the "Connie Mack" of baseball in the Pacific Northwest, will bow out as president of the Western International League at the end of his first one-year term in office.

Although the delegates at the WIL's annual meeting at the Empress Hotel were expected to take measures to ease the league's financial burdens, their decision to return Bob Abel, on a part-time basis, to the office he held for many years, seemed rather sudden.

ROBERT P. BROWN

For the first time in 53 years, the 77-year-old Brown finds himself facing the prospect of not having an active part in the game he knows so well. The meeting, showing high regard for the veteran's ability, named him as honorary president for the coming season.

Brown is believed second only to Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators, a man he closely resembles, in length of active service in organized baseball.

He made his debut as an infielder and catcher in 1900, playing with Joe Tinker at Helena, Montana, in the Montana State League. Both players were sold to Portland of the Northwestern League at the end of the season, Brown as a centrefielder.

Tinker later moved up to Chicago Cubs to become the shortstop of the immortal Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance double-play combination. Brown eventually stepped into an executive position as manager of Aberdeen, Washington, through 1905-08.

After spending one year as manager, vice-president and player with Spokane, he bought the Vancouver Beavers in 1910 and remained the big man in Vancouver baseball until given the WIL presidency in 1953.

Brown, who played his first year at right halfback for the Notre Dame football team in 1895, terminated his baseball playing career in 1922 and later promoted a highly successful amateur league in Vancouver until he entered a club in the WIL in 1938.

He sold the club to Emil Sick in 1945 but continued to operate the club until taking over the league reins from Abel.

The Tacoma lawyer, in a statement Monday night, said he "deeply regretted the fact that the league found it necessary to make such a decision in its front office," and said he "would have preferred to remain in his present capacity as secretary with Mr. Brown as president."

Many other people also will be sorry to see Bob Brown step out of an active position.

Kersey Heads Booster Club

Jack Kersey was elected president of the Victoria Cougars Booster Club at the first meeting of the club this season at Memorial Arena Monday night.

George Gaddie was named vice-president, Merna Jenkin, secretary-treasurer, and Esther Lorenson, publicity director. Elected to the executive were Shirley Leeman, Richard Hudlan and F. E. Ted Proctor.

Clippers Sign Goalie, Rugged Defenseman

Nanaimo Clippers, who regained first place in the Victoria Commercial Hockey League Saturday night, have signed junior goalie Walt Davis to replace Spanky Hodgson and have added a rugged defenseman to their roster.

Clippers, who meet the second-place Victoria Vs in the feature game of a two-game card at Memorial Arena Wednesday night, picked up defenseman George Milford, last season with Victoria Individuals.

Davis, a former Victoria midget netminder, has been playing for a Nanaimo Junior team and will take over Wednesday night for Hodgson, who will join Nelson Maple Leafs of the Western International League shortly. Milford, a rugged customer on defense who was well up among the penalty leaders last season, is expected to be a big help to the short-handed up-Island crew.

MERCHANTS VS. NAVY

Merchants, who were knocked down the ladder from first to third place by the Clippers Saturday, will meet the winless Navy squad in the opener at 7.30 p.m.

League officials have announced that three television sets and 10 turkeys will be given away on December 23. Any patron buying an admission ticket in the next seven league nights at Memorial Arena will be eligible with all ticket stubs being saved. Season ticket holders will also be eligible.

Nanaimo captain Arnie Duggan continues to set the pace in the individual scoring race according to official statistics released by league officials Monday night. Duggan has scored 11 goals and added 13 assists for 24 points, six more than teammate Red Carr.

BROWN THIRD

Toby Brown of Merchants, last year's champion, is third with 14 points while Joe Zuback, Ed Shamlock and Pete Yesowich, all of the Clippers, hold down fourth, fifth and sixth places respectively.

George Hall of Merchants tops the goalies with 21 goals in six games for a mark of 3.50, followed by Arnold Jorgenson of Vs with a 3.60 average.

Shamlock leads in penalties with 22 minutes, followed by Bob Burrows of Merchants with 12 minutes.

Bob Abel Returns As WIL President In Surprise Move

BY JIM TANG

Robert B. Abel, the Tacoma barrister who was first elected to the presidency of the Western International Baseball League in 1941, is again head of the Class "A" league.

ROBERT B. ABEL

In a surprise move at the annual meeting, which opened Monday at the Empress Hotel, league directors decided to replace Bob Brown, the Vancouver veteran who took over the presidential reins from Abel last year.

Brown made the announcement following the end of the third of yesterday's lengthy sessions, stating that he would remain as president until December 31, when his contract expires, and then turn over the job to Abel. Brown was named honorary president and will accompany Abel to the annual meeting of the National Association of Minor Professional Baseball Leagues set for Atlanta, November 30 to December 4.

NO ELABORATION

Club delegates questioned refused to elaborate on the announcement but it was obvious the decision had been made reluctantly and in the interests of economy. Abel will be a part-time president, the same role he filled in his previous nine years, 1941, 1942 and from 1946 through 1952. The clubs decided last year to have a full-time president and Brown was elected at the annual NAMPBL meetings and Abel was retained as legal adviser.

The presidential change was the big news of the first day but the WIL, which had expected to revert to an eight-team league after a season with 10 teams, was confronted with an unexpected problem. As far as could be ascertained last night, the league now has nine clubs willing to give it another try and it is not at all certain whether it will have eight or 10 when "play ball" is barked across league diamonds on April 29 next year.

YAKIMA READY

It had been thought, and announced, that neither Wenatchee nor Yakima would be back for 1954. Wenatchee had no representative at the meeting but Fred Mercy, Jr., owner of the Yakima franchise and first vice-president of the WIL, announced that a group of Yakima businessmen intended to retain the franchise for that city. And with Spokane apparently all set for another year, that left nine clubs—Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Victoria, Salem, Lewiston and Tri-City as well as Spokane and Yakima.

Lengthy discussion on this knotty problem resulted in the announced decision that Wenatchee interests will be given until November 24 to offer proof they are ready to retain their franchise. Just what would happen if Wenatchee forfeited its franchise is still a matter for the future. There was a hint that Tacoma would apply for re-entry while at least one club favored Eugene, Oregon. Neither city was represented at the meeting.

With all clubs agreed that a later start would be helpful, it was finally decided that the 1954 season would open on either April 29 or 30, a week later than the past season. Edmonton pressed for a May 6 opening, a 124-game schedule, and a Shaughnessy playoff to be over not later than Labor Day, September 6. April 29 was the compromise date and Labor Day was set as the closing date of scheduled play.

No decision was made on playdowns. Edmonton reportedly had the support of Victoria and Calgary in the request for the Shaughnessy playdown, but best information available Monday night was that the other clubs were opposed and that the league would retain the split season used for the first time this year.

The only other decision reached yesterday was to retain the Spalding ball as the official WIL baseball.

MEET TODAY

Delegates will convene again at 9 this morning in an effort to clean up unfinished business. This includes suggestions that some sort of a limit be placed on the date of training camp openings and that the league player limit be reduced from 18 to 16 players as well as the election of other officers. If past meetings are any criterion, as much business as possible will be completed quickly this morning and any matter which can not be decided in the one sitting will be left over for the next league meeting, which will probably be held some time in January.

Representing the host Victoria club at the meetings were club-president Arthur Cox and business-manager Reg Patterson. Delegates present from other clubs were.

Vancouver — president Tom English, general and field manager Bill Brenner, and vice-president Dewey Soriano, 1953 general manager who is now general manager of the Seattle Rainiers.

Calgary — president Norman "Bus" Lacey.

Edmonton — president Brant Matthews, vice-president Cecil B. Ross and general manager John Ducey.

Salem—president Bruce Williams and Hugh Luby, general and field manager.

Tri-City — president Harold Matheson and Eddie Taylor, former coach of the Seattle Rainiers who was recently appointed as general manager.

Spokane—owner Roy Hotchkiss.

Lewiston—president Jim McMonigle, business manager Tom Tabor and director George Thiessen.

Yakima—owner Fred Mercy, Jr.

UBC Features Heavy Scrum, Speedy Backs

Two former Victoria Crimson Tide backfield stars will return against their old mates Wednesday when UBC meets the city representatives in the opening match of the McKechnie Cup rugby series at Macdonald Park at 2.30 p.m.

Bob Hutchison and John Newton, both wing three-quarters who have played for Victoria teams in the past, will be in strip when the Thunderbirds open defence of their championship.

Featuring a speedy backfield and a heavy, experienced scrum, the Thunderbirds have six lettermen on the team. Alex Bell, formerly of Argentina, will start at the fullback slot with Skip McCarthy and Dave Morley the centres. Bill Whyte, who captains the side, is at stand-off and Wink Vogle is at scrum half.

The forwards include Peter Grantham, Eric Bendrodt, Doug MacMillan, Bob Morford, Jim MacNeiol, Ray Forrester, and Derek Vallis. Joe Warnock, Bill St. John, Mike Bell and Rennie Edgett are listed as spares.

Island Rads Undefeated

Island Rads remained undefeated in the Suburban Hockey League at Nanaimo Civic Arena Sunday night by downing Port Alberni, 4-2.

B. Hirst, J. Brannan, R. Gilday and N. Robson scored for the winners while Johnson and Ganni tallied for Port Alberni.

Three goals by Dixon paced Eagles to a 10-5 victory over Duncan while Lake Cowichan was blanked by Ladysmith, 3-0, in the third game of the night.

Dorman, Reidway and Patterson each scored two goals for Eagles while Hanson added a singleton. McKinley and Smitty scored three and two goals respectively for the losers. Wright and Lewis sparked Ladysmith with two goals and a singleton respectively.

Fleming, Morrison Again Successful

Bob Fleming and Hugh Morrison of Gorge Vale successfully defended their city senior golf buttons for the sixth time Sunday at Colwood when they edged Tommy Harris Jr. and Ted Colgate of the host club.

Colgate missed a short putt on the 18th hole that would have evened the match and forced extra holes.

McKinnon Receives Thomas Trophy

Three-time coach of Canada Olympic Games teams and athletic director of the Victoria YMCA, Archie McKinnon Monday was presented with the coveted Sid Thomas Memorial Trophy by Seth Halton, publisher of The Daily Colonist, at a Gyro Club luncheon. McKinnon follows Pete Salmon, Eddie Haddad, Bruce Humber, Arnie Ferguson and Doug Fletcher as winners of the trophy, which is in honor of the late sports editor of the Colonist. Above, he holds a miniature replica of the award, and a suitably engraved wrist watch from this newspaper. The trophy, donated by Brock Whitney, is awarded to the figure judged to have contributed the most to amateur sports during the year. A panel of three named McKinnon the winner in May of this year.

Injury-Plagued Alouettes Rally to Smash Hamilton

Toronto	13	5	8	0	184	222	10

Sunday score: Montreal 31, Hamilton 18.

Sparked by a three-touchdown performance by Chuck Hunsinger, the injury-riddled Montreal Alouettes submerged Hamilton Tiger-Cats, 31-18, Sunday to move into a three-way tie for first place in the Big Four Football Union.

Playing at Montreal on a soggy field before 12,085 shivering fans, the Als broke loose for two touchdowns in the final quarter after a first-half rally by the Ti-Cats had tied the score at 12-12 at the break.

The result left Montreal, Hamilton and Ottawa tied for first place with 14 points apiece and about the only thing that's settled in the league is that Toronto Argos won't be on hand to defend their Grey Cup championship.

SCHEDULE NEAR END

The scramble among the three clubs for the two playoff berths won't be untangled until the windup of the regular schedule next Saturday when Alouettes meet Toronto and Hamilton takes on Ottawa.

League secretary Wes Brown said Monday that if there is a second-place tie, a sudden-death game would be played November 18, with a home-and-home, total-point series for the league title.

If there is not a second-place tie, the Big Four playoff this year will be a best-of-three affair. First game would be played November 18, with the second Nov. 21 or 22, and the third, if necessary, Nov. 25. The Grey Cup game will be played Nov. 28.

90-YARD RUNBACK

Alex Webster, who set up one of Hunsinger's touchdowns with a sensational 90-yard runback of a kickoff, and Joe Pal accounted for the other Montreal majors. Ralph Toohy and Tip Logan, on forward passes, and Lou Kusserow, on a line plunge from one yard out, scored Hamilton touchdowns.

The game produced spectacular football. One of Hamilton's touchdowns came on a 60-yard heave by Bernie Custis to Logan. There were also 11 fumbles in the slippery going and a Hamilton attempted pass backfired in the first quarter when Kusserow skidded on the turf and Hussinger raced in to snatch the ball and gallop 25 yards for a score.

BEACHES IN FINAL

Toronto Balmy Beach whipped Sarnia Imperials, 18-10, Sunday to win their home-and-home, total-point Ontario Rugby Football Union semi-finals, 18-12. Sarnia won the first game Saturday by a 2-0 score.

The Toronto victory, largely on a pass interception by tackle Bob McGee and a 57-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Bob Schneidenback to Nayland Moll, gave the Toronto Argonaut farm club a berth in the two-game, total-point final against Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchman.

There are more than 40 alpine lakes in New Mexico well stocked with trout.

Tillicum Athletic Club and Combines failed to break their first-place deadlock in the Junior Division of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association Sunday by battling to a 1-1 tie.

A goal by D. Crisp put the clubmen into the lead in the opening half but Chummy Crabbe tied it up in the second session.

Army, Navy and Air Force Vets and Eagles retained their one-two position in Division I play by scoring identical 8-0 victories over Sidney and Langford respectively.

SCORING STREAK

Bill Abbott, who scored five goals last week, continued on a scoring streak for Vets with a hat trick. Buddy Brice, Noel Boston, Dunc McCaig, Harry Nicolson and Don Glass all tallied singletons.

Eagles were paced to their lopsided win by a three-goal performance by Art Jones. Gordy Lever and Bill Hussey each scored twice while John Redfern picked up one goal.

In Divison II play, Mic Macs edged Eagles 4-3 to remain undefeated this season. B. Carver with two goals and J. Wilson and B. Harman with one apiece were the marksmen for the winners. Painter, Osolit and Rodger tallied for the losers.

A scehduled exhibition game between Salt Spring Island and Canadian Scottish at Ganges was canceled because of wet grounds. On Saturday, the complete slate of five games was postponed because of the weather conditions.

EXHIBITIONS SET

Two exhibition games have been scheduled for Wednesday. Esquimalt Meat Market, a new entry in Division IV, meets Black and White Taxi of Division III at Lower Beacon Hill at 1 p.m.

ANAF Vets take on Royal Road cadets, who have played exhibition games in the Junior Division this season, in their annual battle at Windsor Park at 2 p.m. Vets won last year's match, 3-1.

Following the game, both teams will be entertained by the ANAF Veterans, Victoria Unit No. 12.

Scots Reach Second Round

Canadian Scottish moved into the second round of the Victoria and District Football Association's McGavin Cup play by downing Heaney's 3-1 at Lower Beacon Hill Sunday afternoon before a fair-sized crowd.

Held to a 1-1 tie at half-time by the hustling Cartagemen, the winners broke away from continued pressure by the losers in the second half for two goals by inside-left John Savage for their margin of victory in the interesting and fast game.

In McGavin Cup competition Saturday, Wood Motors flashed its best form of the season in beating Esquimalt, 3-1. Wednesday at Royal Athletic Park, Victoria West will meet Civil Service in the other first-round match starting at 2.30 p.m.

WINNERS OPEN SCORING

Heaneys, electing to kick with the wind after winning the toss, buzzed around the Scottish goal in the opening minutes. But it was the winners who opened the scoring, Rookie Wright gaining credit for their first goal when the forwards rushed the ball into the net on Kurt Lampert's well-placed cross.

Stan Wiseman, who was dangerous on several occasions during the game for Heaneys, got the equalizer after 17 minutes on a spinning, deflected shot that caught goaltender Ken Wright off balance.

Wright sent Savage through the middle early in the second half and the inside forward blasted a shot past George Murphy from point-blank range to score what proved to be the winner.

LOSERS STRIKE BACK

The losers came back strong and only a bit of bad luck and the fine netminding of Wright kept them tying it up. With Heaneys still pressing, Rookie Wright put Savage away on the left and his high lob to the corner caught Murphy unawares.

League secretary Don Gray has requested that all teams have a delegate present at Wednesday's McGavin Cup game in order to make a draw for the semi-final round Saturday. Also under discussion will be the selection of a team to meet Courtenay in an exhibition game next Sunday.

WARSAW (AP) — Moscow's Spartak soccer team, Russian league champions, beat Polish champions, Unia, 4-2 Sunday.

Sinclair Pleased At Colombo Plan

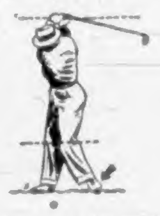
BOMBAY (Reuters) — [illegible] Sinclair, Canadian minister of fisheries, said here Monday that Canada is "extremely pleased" that the Colombo Plan projects in India, Pakistan and Ceylon are "sound and progressing satisfactorily."

"Canada is happy that money for capital assistance has been well spent," he added.

He told reporters Canada was the biggest contributor to the Colombo Plan for southeast Asia, having given $75,000,000 for capital assistance to India, Pakistan and Ceylon during the last three years.

Golf---Here's How

BY SAM SNEAD



At the top of the backswing, when the weight is mainly on the straight, but not locked, right leg the left knee, as pictured, has moved in toward the right knee. But both knees must remain on the same horizontal line (as pictured) to prevent a left-side sag. Any left side sag moves all too easily over into a right side sag. What happens? You hit the ground back of the ball before you hit the ball. Is that good? When the left knee moves in toward the right in the backswing, the left heel should rise to keep both knees on the same horizontal line. This helps keep left side sag out. Our pictured player has swung too far over in the backswing for the average golfer. They'd be late with the clubhead at impact, unless they start their downswing very, very slowly. Of course, all good players are slow at the top.

Toronto's Leafs Tie for Second in NHL

HOW THEY STAND

Detroit	13	6	3	4	36	18	16
Toronto	14	6	4	4	30	28	16
Boston	12	7	4	1	31	29	15
New York	13	3	7	3	27	41	9
Chicago	13	2	11	0	27	48	4

Sunday scores: Detroit 2, New York 2; Toronto 2, Chicago 1; Boston 2, Montreal 0.

Next games Wednesday: Montreal at Toronto; Chicago at New York; Detroit at Boston.

Toronto's surprising Maple Leafs, who had plenty of trouble winning pre-season exhibition games against their farm clubs and were not considered a serious threat for the NHL championship this season, moved into the thick of the battle for first place with a [illegible] end.

Following up their 2-2 draw with Detroit Saturday night, the Leafs ran their unbeaten streak to five games Sunday and handed the hapless Chicago Black Hawks their fourth straight loss by scoring a 2-1 decision at the Windy City.

The other Sunday night action saw Boston Bruins blank the league-leading Montreal Canadiens, 2-0, in Boston, and New York Rangers tie Detroit Red Wings, 2-2, in the Motor City. Boston won on third-period goals by Johnny Peirson and Leo Labine while Detroit got a tie when Ted Lindsay scored with less than three minutes remaining.

Results moved the Leafs into a second-place tie with the Red Wings; put the Bruins only one point back in third place and reduced Montreal's league lead to four points.

In winning their fourth straight game against the Black Hawks this season, Leafs held a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period on a goal by Bob Hassard and made it 2-0 at 5.16 of the third frame when Tim Horton connected off an assist by Hassard. George Gee rifled a 25-footer from the side past Harry Lumley to save the Hawks from a shut out.

Both Boston goals came early in the third period only a minute and 41 seconds apart, breaking up a netminding duel between the Bruins' Sugar Jim Henry, who made 33 stops, and Gerry McNeil, who turned aside 29 shots on his cage.

Johnny Bower, New York's crew-cut goalie, was sensational, especially in the third period as he turned aside shot after shot. He made 32 saves.

But at 17.14 of the final period, rookie Dutch Reibel hopped out of the penalty box and drilled a long drive at Bower. Lindsay, standing in front of the [illegible] his stick at the puck and it caromed into the net.

Going into the final period, the improving Rangers held a 2-1 lead on goals by rookie Ike Hildebrand and Don Raleigh. Johnny Wilson had scored for Detroit in the second period.

The Dog and the Bone

A DOG was crossing a plank bridge over a stream with a piece of meat in his mouth, when he happened to see his own reflection in the water. He thought it was another dog with a piece of meat twice as big, so he let go his own, and flew at the other dog to get the larger piece. But, of course, all that happened was that he got neither, for one was only a shadow, and the other was carried away by the current.

Hospital Backed On Milk

Supporting the Royal Jubilee Hospital statement that the dairies of Victoria are combining to fix prices is William Palmer, president of the Victoria Independent Merchants' Co-operative.

Mr. Palmer says that as soon as milk prices were removed from control his association asked for milk quotations from the leading dairies.

QUOTE SAME PRICE

"Without exception they all quoted 23 cents a quart—just what we had been paying under control—and just the same price as was offered to George Masters, administrator of the Jubilee Hospital," said Mr Palmer.

Mr Palmer declared that his association members would like to pass on some milk reduction to their customers, but they are making only one cent a quart at the present price level.

"To try and sell milk at less than 24 cents to the public would be a violation under the Loss Leader Act" explained their quotas.

AFRAID OF QUOTAS

"I even asked a number of local producers to supply our association with milk, thus bypassing the dairies," said Mr. Palmer, "but they were afraid if they did so they would lose their quotas."

"There is no price competition in the milk trade in Victoria—there's no doubt about that," said Mr. Palmer.

Decrease on Mainland

Price Drop on Eggs Due

Egg prices in Victoria are expected to drop sharply Wednesday, in line with a decrease effective Monday at Vancouver.

Mainland prices dropped seven cents a dozen for Grade A large eggs, a total decline in a week of 11 cents.

Also down is the price of butter, wholesalers reported. First grade butter wholesale price is 65 cents a pound, a one-cent drop.

Meat prices remained stable during the past week.

Oranges may be in short supply later this month, wholesalers reported. Valencia stocks are being cleaned up in California and new supplies of navel oranges aren't expected for about 10 days.

Florida grapefruit, retailing about nine cents each, are plentiful, along with new California vegetables, lettuce, celery, broccoli, green onions and green beans.

Grand Forks potatoes continue in supply, retailing about four cents a pound.

Percy Wright To Receive Presentation

The Anti-Climax Department. City Hall employees were informed Monday that "a presentation is being made to Mr. Percy Wright on his retirement from the civic service."

Former assistant-city clerk, Mr. Wright walked off the job in mid-September to take his seat in the legislature after his request for 30 days leave of absence without pay had been refused.

Question of whether he had quit, was fired, would be rehired or was through for good, kept city officials hopping and the press filled for several weeks.

Students Plan Night At Theatre

It's going to be "student night" tonight at the Totem Theatre, as approximately 70 Victoria College and Normal School students attend the current "Moon Is Blue."

Sponsored by the college paper, The Martlet, the special night plan may become a regular thing. "Possibly every second Tuesday," said Martlet editor Anthony Gambrill, Monday night.

Talented Woodcarver To Open Studio

This is how Carola Bartl looked when she performed in the world-famous Passion Play in 1934.

Carola Bartl comes from Oberammergau where the woodcarving industry of Europe is centred. Here she is shown with some of her animal carvings.

Big Push Prepared By Chest

Teams of top canvassers will be organized on Thursday in a final push to put the Community Chest drive over the top, Red Feather chairman Courtney Haddock reported Monday.

"We won't be able to do it in a day. It may take from a week to 10 days to go over the quota," he said.

"The quota must be achieved if the great desire of the majority is to be realized by having one united drive in the city," Mr. Haddock said.

OFFERS MADE

He reported one laundry manager had offered to match the contributions made by his employees.

Another big industrial concern has offered to put in the payroll deduction plan and this should help to swell the total, he said.

One Langford man who had donated $10 originally, sent in another $15 to help reach the quota, Mr. Haddock said.

Gunderson Says Report On Debt Set

Finance Minister Einar Gunderson is still sitting on a statement which he predicts will make the Liberals wish they had never brought up the public-debt issue in the current by-election campaign.

"I've got the statement all ready," Mr. Gunderson said Monday, "but I can't make up my mind how to get it over to the public truthfully and honestly, without it being distorted."

Mr. Gunderson's statement was planned as the Social Credit capper in the series of charges and counter-charges between former Liberal premier Byron Johnson and Socred premier W. A. C. Bennett over the Socred's claimed $34,000,000 debt reduction.

Art of Bavaria Reaches Victoria

BY ALEC MERRIMAN

Carola Bartl has come from Oberammergau, a Bavarian village that lives three centuries in the past, to make her home in Victoria.

She is enthused about the modern living in Canada but she intends to devote most of her time teaching Canadians the handicrafts that have been handed down by generations of her people.

PLANS STUDIO

She is presently the guest of Ernest ten Tompel of the Knotty Pine, Langford. She plans to set up a studio for art and woodcarving in a building adjacent to the Knotty Pine and will hold classes in woodcarving.

Miss Bartl's home, Oberammergau, is in the Bavarian Alps and is famous for its productions of the Passion Play.

In 1633, when the people of Oberammergau were sieged with the "black plague," the ancient council of the community went to the parish church and made a solemn vow to perform the Passion of our Lord every tenth year.

The disease stopped immediately and for more than 300 years the Passion Play has been presented every 10 years in Oberammergau.

LIFE OF VILLAGE

The Passion Play and the arts are the whole life of the 3,500 residents of the quaint village.

There are 1,500 in the cast of the Passion Play and no outside talent is imported.

Everyone from school age up, except for married women, takes part in the play. Married women are forbidden parts, but they have plenty to do caring for the 400,000 visitors who come to see the play each year it is performed.

Preparations start a year before the play is to be held and the whole village starts to live the life of 3,000 years ago.

MEN GROW BEARDS

The men grow beards and let their hair grow. Even the children must let their hair grow to take their various parts.

Miss Bartl has performed in the Passion Play twice. She was in it in 1930 and again in 1934 when she took the part of an angel in a special jubilee performance to mark 3,000 years of Passion Plays.

Woodcarving, painting, music and all the arts are the whole occupation of the people of Oberammergau.

These arts are passed on from generation to generation and there is a big college of arts in the village.

Miss Bartl comes from a woodcarving and musical family.

PLAYS VIOLIN, PIANO

She plays the violin and piano well but it is at woodcarving that she shines.

She attended the art school in Oberammergau for six years and in recent years has sold her carvings all over Europe.

Her father is considered among Europe's finest carvers and she brings many of his secrets with her to Canada.

Miss Bartl has carved many life-size figures for European churches but she is best known for her carvings of animals.

MANY TOOLS

She has brought many of her carvings with her from Bavaria and has brought her complete set of tools including 100 chisels.

From her Langford studio she hopes to continue the work that her family has been doing for centuries.

Extra Three Months Asked For Start on BCE Building

The City of Victoria is being asked to give the B.C. Electric Company an extension of three months on the start of construction of their new building at Blanshard-Pandora.

In a letter to the mayor and council, E. W. Arnott, BCE vice-president said that the BCE in December 1950 had undertaken to start building within three years, but while plans were practically complete, it was deemed good building practice to wait for more favorable weather conditions.

EXTENSION ASKED

On these grounds Mr. Arnott asked the city to extend the starting date by three months to March 31, when the company would undertake to commence construction.

It is estimated the six-story building will cost between $500,000 and $600,000.

The city sold the property to the utility company for $35,000 in 1950, $8,000 more than the assessed value but considerably less than the market value at that time.

City council sold the land at a lower price because it was felt the city would be well repaid by the taxes on a $500,000 building.

Remanded for Sentence

Youth Admits Break-Ins

An 18-year-old youth pleaded guilty in city police court Monday to five charges of breaking and entering with intent to steal.

Donald Gray, 1453 Taunton, was remanded until Thursday for sentence pending a probation officer's report.

THEFTS LISTED

He pleaded guilty to entering the home of Ernest Morry, 1434 Vining, on Sunday and stealing $43, entering the Haultain Meat Market on October 8, and stealing cigarettes, taking a quantity of tools from the Fernwood Garage on November 1, the theft of cigarettes, gum and candy from the Cosmopolitan Lunch, 1308 Government, on October 9, and entering the Skylark Cafe, 1817 Douglas on October 9 and stealing a number of wrist watches as well as cigarettes.

Gray was arrested at his home Sunday by Victoria detectives.

Reply Awaited On Bench Offer

—AROUND TOWN—

A Vancouver advertising firm which offered to place benches at Victoria bus stops and pay for the privilege is still looking for a reply.

The company would pay the city $1.50 per month per bench and install the benches themselves provided the backs could display advertisements.

The public works committee turned down the offer several weeks ago but was asked to reconsider it by city council. In the meantime the committee has recommended that the city spend $400 and place 10 benches itself.

In a letter Monday Mastercraft Agencies of Vancouver say they have had no official reply but have heard their offer was refused. They say the objection seems to be the profit they would make and for this reason "thousands of Victoria citizens are being penalized."

"No one, not even yourselves, works for nothing," the letter states. "Nor can a public utility company operate as a public philanthropist." This last reference was to one city plan to have the B.C. Electric share the cost of bus stop benches. This has since been refused by the bus company.

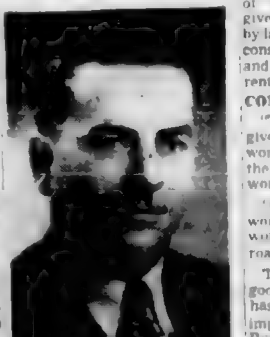
City council will meet Tuesday to reconsider the service charge on automatic sprinkler systems, opposed vigorously by a Chamber of Commerce sub-committee.

The committee will be on hand to present arguments to the council. As a result of a previous meeting with the chamber group, the public works committee recommended reduction of the charge from one-half the domestic rate to one-sixth.

The businessmen feel, however, that the charge is wrong in principle and want it entirely abolished.

Big Works Program Asked for Esquimalt

A public works program to which the council is committed by date of completion should be begun in Esquimalt, Reeveship candidate Andrew Whisker said Monday.



ANDREW WHISKER

Included in such a program could be, "without increased taxation," complete reconstruction of Admirals Road, he said.

His campaign platform contained criticism at past actions of council. Information was given the public on the $300,000 by-law that roads would be reconstructed from that money and certain others out of current revenue, Mr. Whisker said.

CONTRACT SUGGESTED

"The general impression was given at that time that the work would be contracted under the by-law, leaving municipal workers free for other roads.

"Contrary to that municipal workers are doing the by-law work, neglecting secondary roads," he added.

The municipality should show good faith with Ottawa, which has increased the grant, and improve Admirals and Colville Roads.

"Without increasing taxes we could in two years completely reconstruct Admirals Road," he said.

Older sections shouldn't be neglected. Grafton, Foster, Sturdee and Nelson Streets which "still suffer lack of sidewalks, poor roads and open ditches," the candidate added.

ENTITLED TO SHARE

Newer, higher assessment districts such as Shirley, Forshaw, Bryden Court, McNaughton, Uganda are entitled to a fair proportion of expenditures of public funds.

Although people supported the by-law there was no attempt on sidewalk services which would take the public off high-speed streets, he added.

Mr. Whisker added that he felt with the municipality growing so quickly and income increased through assessments and goverment grants an over-all program of improvements could be started with large sections done in two years "and with positively no increase in taxation."

DUNCAN—Funeral services for Neal Francis Ferguson, 38, who collapsed and died while at work at Gordon River camp Wednesday, were held Monday from the Hirst Funeral Chapel.

Crime broke out with a vengeance over the week end in Saanich and on Monday beleaguered police officers were investigating the shooting of a Victoria man, a vast, illegal lottery operation and a safe-cracking.

In Saanich police court Monday morning Chinese farmer Edward "Teddy" Lore, 18, was charged with attempting to murder Robert "Tuck" Davis, 1242 Johnson with a shotgun.

Twenty-seven-year-old Davis was treated for a wound over his right eye and released from hospital Monday.

The shooting took place at Lore's home on Granville Road late Sunday night police said.

They described the wound on Davis' head as a "bad gash" but said it could have resulted in his death if the gun had been pointed half an inch farther to the left.

NO PLEA GIVEN

The stocky Chinese was remanded until Thursday without plea. He was not represented by counsel.

In another case, Saanich police early Monday arrested George Herbert Coward, 50, 929 North Park, and charged him with operating an illegal lottery.

After his arrest, they said they seized thousands of sweepstake tickets and a list of names which they hope will lead to a break which will crack a large Western Canadian gambling ring.

Coward appeared in Saanich police court Monday and was remanded until Thursday without plea.

Coward was arrested by Constables Robin Stewart and George Walton at 3.15 a.m. Monday on Quadra when they stopped his car on a routine check.

The playing of a hunch in the lottery case paid off spectacularly for the police.

They found a passenger in the car, which had been proceeding at only 15 miles an hour, and suspecting the presence of alcohol, checked the interior.

FOUND TICKETS

They said they found a cardboard box jammed full with books of lottery tickets for dozens of lotteries as well as receipts, money and lists of ticket buyers.

A further search of his residence on North Park turned up thousands more tickets, dating back as far as 1945.

Also in the car were several cans of film, some of which came under investigation by RCMP special branch officers.

Sgt. Cecil Pearce of Saanich police joined the investigation after the car had been taken to Saanich police headquarters Monday.

Bail of $1,000 was set for Coward by Magistrate Hall after Saanich prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said there were "indications of wide scope of operations by the accused."

Also uncovered in the truck, police said, was race track information, dozens of letters, and envelopes containing money. One officer said that the letters, plus some correspondence found later, gave the names and addresses of many important men in the "syndicate."

One police officer who is working on the case said that "we have all the names and addresses. It is just a matter of time before they are picked up".

SAFE OPENED

At 8 a.m. Monday, Saanich officers were called to the Tillicum Outdoor Theatre where it was discovered thieves had gained entry, opened the safe but were not able to get at any cash within.

Detective Joseph Armstrong said the burglars, who cut a hole in the outside wall of the office to gain entry, had not been able to get into the strong box of the main safe.

Theatre manager Bill Ward reported that only a few packages of cigarettes had been taken.

It is the second time in a little over a year that safecrackers have struck at the theatre. In September, 1952, an attempt was made to cut the safe open, but no money was taken.

Mrs. Ward said she had put $80 in cash in the safe over the week end at the request of her mother, who was leaving Victoria, and didn't want to travel with the money on her person.

"You can imagine how relieved I felt when I learned the money was still there after putting it in a 'safe' place for her," she said.

A brace and bit used by the thieves was still at the scene when police arrived. A considerable amount of sheeting and stucco had been torn from the building, but the hole they had entered by was only about 18 by 24 inches.

TWO FINED $250

Two men were fined $250 each in Saanich court Monday when they pleaded guilty to driving when impaired.

Sgt. E. C. Elwell, Saanich police, charged both men while investigating an accident involving the first accused on the Gorge Road near Harriet Saturday night.

He was at the scene of an accident in which Herbert Baird, 551 Third, went off the road, struck and broke a light pole guywire, rolled over a lawn and over a four-foot retaining wall into a lawn on the other side.

While the investigation was going on, Sgt. Elwell said he saw a second car being driven in an erratic manner on Gorge and followed it. The driver, George R. Stevens, a Canadian government lightship crew member, was charged and pleaded guilty Monday morning. He was also fined $250.

Shortly before noon on Monday, Constable Leslie Ledson of the Saanich police was called to the intersection of Burnside and Helmcken where a horse had been struck by a truck.

The right rear flank of the animal was badly gashed and the horse had to be disposed of.

Lost in Gulf Saturday

Beaches Searched For Cleric's Body

Beaches of Gulf Islands and adjacent waters are being combed today by RCMP officers and Island residents for the body of Rev. Thomas W. Muir, lost Saturday from his mission boat.

Mr. Muir fell into the treacherous waters of the islands Saturday evening while en route from Sidney to Pender Island with three passengers.

LITTLE HOPE HELD

Little hope is held that the body will wash ashore, RCMP officers said Monday, due to the strong currents running through the area.

Mr. Muir was transporting three Otter Bay Fishery employees to Pender Island after taking them to Sidney earlier in the day to cash pay cheques.

Traveling through choppy waters and a high wind, Mr. Muir is believed to have lost balance and gone overboard.

The boat was turned around immediately, and for a few minutes the men aboard said they could see him. But by the time they reached the spot, he had vanished.

OPERATED BY CHURCH

The 26-foot vessel, Chancellor, is operated by the Anglican Church through the Gulf Islands area. Police officers said Monday they were hampered in their Saturday night search because the mission boat was not equipped with lights strong enough to conduct a proper search.

Mr. Muir had been in charge of the boat for about one year, coming here from Cornwall, Ont. He was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and was unmarried.

He is survived by his mother in Vancouver.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

After Uncle Wiggily had said it was a mystery how his Aeroplanet Raft came to be adrift on Frog Pond with Jackie, Peetie and Bibbie [illegible] the talking gentleman [illegible] Grandpa Whackum, the beaver, and said:

"Perhaps you can tell us how the raft got adrift."

"Yes, I think I can," answered the beaver gentleman. "As I [illegible] I was just taking an evening swim in Frog Pond when I saw your raft drifting along. I was surprised for I knew you had tied it up for the winter [illegible] and I told you I climbed aboard. I saw Jackie, Peetie and Bibbie going to bed in one of the little cabins. I must have made some noise for Jackie came out on deck and called to know who it was.

"I did not answer, but splashed back into Frog Pond. Then I swam to the place on shore where your raft had been tied, Uncle Wiggily, and I saw a loose rope. What I think happened is that the rope got loose from where it was tied to the raft. That would let the raft drift away as it did."

"Sounds as if it might have happened that way," [illegible] barked Chief [illegible].

"But Bosun was supposed to have tied the raft so it could not get loose," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Bosun was going on his vacation," [illegible] Pat Butter, the goat gentleman grocer. "He was in a hurry and maybe he didn't tie the rope right."

"It may [illegible] things that [illegible] Uncle Wiggily. "But of course I [illegible] to get [illegible]

"Maybe [illegible] Those boys may have been [illegible] raft. Having fun [illegible] around and [illegible] In some way they may have loosened the rope."

"Yes, it could have happened that way," admitted Uncle Wiggily. "Anyhow, my raft is drifting [illegible] Frog Pond with Jackie, Peetie and Bibbie on board."

"[illegible] after the raft and rescue the boys?" asked Mr. Bow Wow.

"I don't like to think of Jackie and Peetie out on the raft drifting away in the night."

"And I wish I had Bibbie Wagtail back with me," bleated Mr. Butter. "Of course I'm only his uncle but I think as much of Bibbie as if he were my own son. I want to get him back."

"If we had some sort of motor boat we could go looking for the raft," said Uncle Wiggily.

"I have a motor boat," barked Sergeant [illegible], who was the [illegible] keeper. "I got it last week and it's a fine boat."

"Where is your boat now, Bill?" Uncle Wiggily asked.

"It's tied [illegible] I have not far from here on the south shore of Frog Pond," [illegible] answered.

"Then this is what we'll do," exclaimed Uncle [illegible] motor boat and go looking for the raft. [illegible] and come back and get [illegible]

"That's a good idea," barked Mr. Bow Wow. "I feel better when I can be doing something. I guess Jackie and Peetie are pretty well scared just about now, drifting on the raft in the dark."

"[illegible] Jackie and Peetie [illegible] take care of themselves," said Uncle Wiggily.

"So can Bibbie Wagtail," bleated Mr. Butter. "But I'd feel better about him if he had some [illegible] cheese. That reminds me I had better [illegible]." Which he did, hopes and [illegible] where the raft had last been seen. Sergeant Bill soon arrived in his motor boat and they all [illegible] aboard.

Now the search begins, and Uncle Wiggily [illegible] exciting adventure.

And just about this time the three pirates on the raft were having an exciting adventure. I will tell you about it tomorrow, if the egg beater doesn't [illegible] orange [illegible] the lemonade and [illegible]

Where on Earth
Is The Most Dangerous Sport?

by TED ATWOOD

For the sportsman who likes his adventure well spiced with danger, fishing for devilfish offers a maximum of thrills. A huge battle creature, the devil fish or manta ray as it is sometimes called weighs in at 1000 pounds and measures over 20 feet from the tip of one large fin to the tip of the other. It uses its winglike fins to beat its way rapidly through the water, just as a bird flies through the air. Sprouting from the monster's head is a second pair of fins called lobes. Extending upward and outward like two tremendous satanic horns, the lobes give the fish its name of devil.

When frightened or wounded, the manta ray becomes a deadly, unpredictable foe. In chasing one of the giants harpoons are shot from motor launches. When one strikes home, the ray often leaps from the water and slaps back again with a bang loud enough to be heard for a mile. If the ray is near a launch when it leaps, it can heel the boat over or even tip it over. When securely harpooned, it will race away with the length of the line and tow the boat for miles.

There have been reports of devilfish that have run foul of a boat's anchor chain, clasped their fins around it, and flashed away with anchor, chain and ship. Then ships have known the terror of an unexpected rush through the water when their sails were down and engines [illegible].

Sometimes rifles must be brought into play to finish the kill. When the ray is finally brought to shore, a crowd always gathers to stare and wonder, for the capture of a devil fish is a rare achievement in any sportsman's [illegible].

Student Drivers Tremble When Dad Takes Wheel

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—The head of the family used to shudder with apprehension when his teen-age children took out the family car. If he had to go along as a passenger, he usually came back a bundle of nerves.

[illegible] here. After three years of driving classes at the St. Catharines Collegiate, it's the kids who tremble when riding with dad at the wheel. They've even suggested that the grown-ups take a few refresher lessons themselves.

"The kids think they can drive better than their parents, and in many cases that is the truth," says principal Gordon Price, who has seen about 75 students complete the course in each of the last three years. There are 100 students enrolled this year.

BETTER THAN PARENTS?

"It is the parents we should be teaching, not the children," comments instructor Fred Pattison. "One pupil, after passing the course, said he would no longer drive with his mother. Another said his father constantly broke sound driving rules."

Pattison's course consists of about 20 class lessons and 12 hours of actual driving practice on a dual-control car presented each year by a local automobile dealer. Many students who already have their licenses attend the classroom periods to brush up on safe driving tips.

Two students are taken out together on the driving instruction, one driving and one observing. Pattison is at the dual controls, but rarely uses them.

"The less you interfere with a student, the more confidence he gets," he says.

To take the course, a student must be 16 and have a beginner's permit. Senior students have first chance, since it is impossible to handle all those who would like to learn. Pupils take lessons during free periods, after school on weekdays, and Saturdays.

Each year more girls than boys have enrolled for the course.

"The day is soon coming when we won't be able to call the women crazy drivers," says Dr. Price.

Sooke Legion Branch Plans Variety Night

SOOKE HARBOR — Sooke branch, Canadian Legion, will hold a variety night in Sooke Community Hall Saturday, November 14, at 8 p.m.

Vocal and instrumental selections are to be heard in the first half of the program, while the second portion is to be devoted to a one-act play, "Overlaid," by the Sooke Players and directed by Peggy Elgar.

POPPY DAY SUCCESS

The Sooke Legion Women's Auxiliary held a successful Poppy Day at district points Saturday. Members were assisted by school students.

A Remembrance Day service will be conducted by Rev. Robert Lyttle at the Sooke cenotaph Wednesday. Legion men and women, Sooke Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, Cubs and Brownies will assemble at the Legion Hall and parade to the war memorial, now in a new position on Sooke Community Hall property.

Power Steering on Cars Standard in Five Years

DETROIT (AP) — Power steering probably will be standard equipment on most automobiles within the next five years.

About two years old on passenger cars, power steering has taken a firmer hold on driver fancy than anything the car industry's engineers have developed since the advent of mass production.

A growing number of parts suppliers are going into the production of power units. Competition among them promises early reduction of manufacturing and retail costs.

SEVERAL VARIATIONS

Since Chrysler first introduced power steering on its larger cars several variations of the device have been brought out. There have been "integral" units, "booster" devices, "full power" steering and the type that operates only after a certain amount of manual pressure has been exerted.

A keen controversy has been carried on in the industry as to the merits of the "full power" and the unit that takes over only after some manual effort has been applied. Advocates of the latter method claim it retains more of the "normal" steering "feel."

Retail prices for power steering range between $130 and $200. In many instances the unit costs approximately the same as an automatic transmission. However, the conviction is growing that power steering will reach the standard equipment stage before automatic transmissions.

When power steering becomes standard it isn't likely its price will be absorbed by the car makers. However, the prediction that it will be made standard is based on the manufacturers' assumption that increased production should bring a sharp reduction in manufacturing costs.

Early Start To Be Made On Couplings

The provincial fire marshal's office is prepared to make an early start on converting couplings used by Victoria's fire department to conform to a new, standard size set for the whole of the province.

The standard now for all couplings is three-inch, eight threads to the inch.

Purpose of having all fire departments in the province with the same size couplings is so that one department may help another in time of a major conflagration.

CIVIL DEFENSE NEED

Standardization has come about now because of civil defense planning. W. A. Walker, fire marshal, estimated 75 per cent of the fire equipment in B.C. is already of the standard specified.

Cost of conversion is being borne two-thirds by the provincial government and one-third by the federal government.

House Raffle In Alberta Investigated

EDMONTON (BUP) — The attorney-general's department said Monday it was investigating a raffle sponsored by a Calgary service club which offered a $20,000 home as first prize.

Department solicitor J. E. Hart said an investigation was being made into the "whole conduct" of the raffle, in which reports said 600 ticket stubs were not turned in before the draw.

The event was sponsored by the Active Club of Calgary and names of six finalists were drawn from a barrel Friday. They must now compete in a 50-word essay contest on the value of community clubs.

Poppy Campaign Proves Success

LANGFORD — George McGregor, chairman of the Poppy Fund drive of the Prince Edward Branch of the Canadian Legion (Langford-Colwood area) reports a satisfactory canvass through the district.

The Brownies and some Legion members have canvassed from Parson's Bridge to the Lagoon, at Belmont Park, Colwood, Glen Lake and Colwood and the Legion wishes to thank them for their splendid effort.

Bombers Have No Excuses; Fans Hopeful

EDMONTON (CP) - Winnipeg Blue Bombers kept their troubles to themselves Saturday night after bowing 25-7 to Edmonton Eskimos in the first game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union best-of-three final.

The Bomber dressing room was closed to visitors as the crestfallen players filed off the field.

Coach George Trafton had nothing to say about the contest and it wasn't known who would go at quarterback in the second game at Winnipeg Wednesday.

Trafton used both Joe Zaleski and Indian Jack Jacobs in Saturday's contest. Bombers had no excuses. As one official summed up, "We just didn't catch fire."

A small group of Winnipeg supporters gathered around the dressing room yelling, "Get 'em Wednesday, and we'll see you next Saturday." The Eskimo dressing room was a happy one, but there was no special exuberance.

The attorney-general is expected to go to Ottawa with Premier Bennett in mid-December to discuss Doukhobor matters.

SEEK AGREEMENT

Presumably he will try to reach an agreement with the federal authorities over the amount B.C. should be paid for housing the Doukhobors until the new penitentiary quarters are ready.

B.C.'s bill for the accommodation may run to about $12,000. Average cost of maintaining prisoners in Oakalla is about $3.20 per day.

Cabinet To Hear Charges

"Certain provocative measures" allegedly taken by Interior B.C. lumber manufacturers will be discussed with the provincial cabinet Tuesday or Thursday.

The cabinet will hear charges by the International Woodworkers of America and the B.C. Federation of Labor about manufacturers' actions in the Interior lumber strike.

Lumber workers in the Northern Interior have been on strike for six weeks. They were joined by Southern Interior workers two weeks ago.

Trees for Christmas Leaving B.C. Forests

Chrismas trees to delight millions of young hearts are beginning to leave B.C.'s interior forests.

Most of the trees—all junior-sized Douglas firs—are being cut in a 100-mile strip in the East Kootenay's from Elko through Cranbrook and up to Radium Hot Springs. Most of the cutters are farmers who supplement their income by cutting up to 2,500 trees each on Crown lands under special permits.

FIRMS ALSO CUT

A few Christmas-tree companies also take off large numbers of trees annually from their own lands.

Cutting started two weeks ago and will continue until nearly Christmas. No definite figures are available yet but foresters expect this year's cut to approximate last year's total of 1,668,000 trees.

Yacht Club Triumphs in Navy Races

A team of three skippers representing Royal Victoria Yacht Club raced against an equal number from RCN Sailing Association to take top honors in a double-header sailing match in Esquimalt Harbor Sunday afternoon. Both races were contested in the navy's Sailorette Class one-design sloops which were balloted for prior to the start of the event.

On aggregate points the RVYC team won the day with 22 points to 16.

CRAFT DISMASTED

[illegible] the first race Peter Young (RVYC) had his boat dismasted in a squall but he drew another for the second event and sailed it into winning position.

Ned Ashe (RVYC) in Hawk was first across the line in the opening race followed by Lieut. Koenig (RCNSA) in Silver Heron. Green Teal, skippered by Roy Smith (RCNSA) fouled the mark at the finish line, thus evening up Young's misfortune.

To keep the team on equal [illegible] in the second race the [illegible] was reduced to four. Young sailed Green Teal into first place, followed by Ashe in Silver Heron and Cmdr. Davidson (RCNSA) in Hawk.

LET MARTIN
PRETORIUS
NUTRITIONIST, AUTHOR, WORLD TRAVELER,
SHOW YOU THE WAY TO HEALTH & HAPPINESS AND A GLORIOUS, NEW ZEST for LIVING!
BY MAKING A FEW SIMPLE CHANGES IN YOUR EATING AND LIVING HABITS

WHO IS MARTIN PRETORIUS? He is a nutritionist, world traveler and author, a descendant of the ancient Pretorius family which migrated from Holland to South Africa during the early adventurous days of the Dutch East India Company. The city of his birth, Pretoria, was named for General Marthinius Pretorius, founder and first president of the Transvaal, Dutch Republic of South Africa.

While in the service of the South African government, Martin Pretorius came in close contact with the primitive peoples of that country. He was impressed with their well developed bodies and abundant vitality. Continued observation brought the realization that these people did not have headaches, "jumpy nerves," insomnia, failing glands, poor eyesight. Nor did they suffer from arthritis, catarrh, colds, colitis, asthma, sinus, diabetes, skin diseases, nervousness, constipation, heart-burn, indigestion, rheumatism, ulcers. Furthermore, these natives had no cancer, heart trouble, and did not die from high blood pressure.

But as soon as these superbly healthy and happy natives migrated to the cities and adopted urban ways of living and eating, he noted that they began to suffer from the same ailments and diseases responsible for so much unhappiness among civilized people everywhere.

Investigation of the causes of this change was for Martin Pretorius the beginning of a lifetime career of study, research and service to mankind.

WHEN CAN YOU HEAR PRETORIUS, how he help you as he has helped thousands all over the world?

HOW DID PRETORIUS get his first clue as to why civilized people break down and age physically sooner than they should? By observing how the primitives in South Africa lost both health and happiness, once they adopted "city-ways." Dr. Martin Gumpert, nationally recognized old age specialist recently stated that Science has already proven that life can be prolonged one third using present knowledge. "Now," he said, "we have to adapt laboratory techniques to the human body. Martin Pretorius learned this secret from Primitive people over thirty years ago. It's a question of GOOD CIRCULATION and GOOD ELIMINATION."

Poor Circulation and Poor Elimination prevent the body from being properly nourished regardless of the quality of the food consumed.

GOOD CIRCULATION can make you more active, look and feel younger, improve poor eyesight and your complexion, tone up flabby, sagging tissues and improve all body functions. Chronic FATIGUE and SLEEPLESSNESS may be due to sluggish circulation.

BETTER NUTRITION makes possible greater vitality, glowing health, energetic youth. Sickness may be prevented by applying principles taught by Martin Pretorius. See how you can produce more energy. See the mysterious life force, that must be present in your food, filmed through ultra microscopes. See why the absence of this principle in food today is responsible for many of our happiness-destroying pains and aches. Learn what causes the five different types of overweight — why the so-called "fattening" foods fail to make underweight people gain weight. Know why a deficient diet results in nervousness, irritability, and the loss of physical vigor and attractiveness.

To be well nourished one must have GOOD CIRCULATION and GOOD BLOOD. It takes more than just eating nutritionally good foods to make good blood. Learn the SIX basic requirements that must be fulfilled to get into your blood everything needed to nourish every organ, gland and tissue in your body.

WHO benefits? YOU ARE THE ONE. Do you look and feel older than you really are? Do you suffer increasingly from sleeplessness, irritability, chronic fatigue and the like? This need not happen to you. Martin Pretorius has helped thousands of others. He can help YOU. With this wonderful, natural way to health he has met and conquered problems similar to your own. Avail yourself of this priceless knowledge, it can transform your life! With greater health and energy will come greater happiness, greater usefulness, greater prosperity and security. You will become a NEW, [illegible] YOU!

HERE'S WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT PRETORIUS:

"We are particularly pleased with the response we are getting from your articles on diet." — Daily Mirror, New York.

"I have had the pleasure of hearing Martin Pretorius twice and thoroughly enjoyed both lectures." ELEANOR KITCHEN
Assistant Dean of Women, Boston University

"His lecture proved not only to be very interesting, but unusually helpful. The fact that the audience remained for two hours, and were then reluctant to go, is ample evidence of the attitude of his hearers." FRANK C. SPRAGUE

Question Raised at Esquimalt Council Meeting

Legal Advice Asked on School Land Sale

Esquimalt council Monday ordered that legal advice be sought whether Greater Victoria School Board can purchase municipal property for school purposes.

School board chairman R. H. Reeve told council the board "had no thought" of purchasing the municipal property, Halstead Park, which had been set aside by council for school purposes.

"If the land is put on school reserve it is in effect ours," he told council. The acquiring of such land without charge was provided for under provincial law, he added.

CLAIMED UNFAIR

"It's an unfair way of acquiring land, unequalized," remarked Councillor G. R. Guillemaud. "I'm in favor of the board purchasing the land no matter where."

Mr. Reeve had noted that the board had acquired land in Victoria, Oak Bay, and Saanich municipalities for schools without charge.

The school site was planned as four acres, he said, in explaining $13,600 listed for purchase of property for the eight-room elementary unit. One property was $3,000 and a second at $10,600 possibly at expropriation price. Both were privately owned, he added.

PROPERTY DONATED

The federal government has donated property to the site, the board chairman continued, and is expected to continue past policy by underwriting five-eighths of the school costs, identical with the percentage of armed services children making the total population.

He noted in answer to a question from Clr. James Bryant that if the by-law was defeated next month servicemen's children still must be accommodated in schools, even if shifts were necessary.

Provincial law requires that schooling must be provided for children residing within the municipality.

The school would be constructed on the southeast corner adjacent to Wichbury Avenue, Mr. Reeve said, with the main entrance on that avenue.

CROSSWALK NEEDED

A students' crosswalk, based on traffic studies, would be required on Lyall Street making for better control of children.

Playground equipment presently installed would not be kept for safety and space reasons, he noted, but could be relocated by the board at the municipality's direction.

Scouts Meet In Afternoon

The West Saanich Scouts and Cubs will hold their regualr meetings in the afternoons instead of the evenings, it was decided at a meeting of the group committee held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Dignan Monday.

There was a great deal of discussion whether it was advisable to disband until better weather so they could have more outdoor activity.

It has been necessary to hold the meetings in the evening but that has not been satisfactory and arrangements have now been made to hold the meeting Tuesday afternoons after school from 3.30 to 4.30 p.m.

SHORT NOTICE

Since the change has been made on short notice uniforms will not be necessary today.

Seven scouts have been registered with headquarters this year and eight cubs have joined and more are expected. The committee expects enrollment to increase with the afternoon rallies.

Mrs. Ray Ford is the Akela and Gordon Hannah is the Scout Master.

Italian Challenges British Officer

ROME (AP)—A challenge to a duel with pistols was telegraphed to British Maj.-Gen. Sir John Winterton in Trieste Sunday night by Odo Spadazzi, monarchist member of the chamber of deputies. The newspaper Il Tempo said Spadazzi issued the challenge because the Allied military commander directs Trieste police who last week shot and killed six pro-Italian rioters.

Britain Sets Mark In Car Production

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain produced 64,304 cars in September, breaking all previous records, government statistics showed Monday. Overseas markets bought 27,865. Other records: British airlines flew more miles (6,375,000), carried more passengers (301,600) and more freight (10,318 tons) in July than any previous month. There were a record 2,615,000 television sets licensed in September.

CHANGED SYSTEM

Steam fishing trawlers made their appearance in Britain's fisheries in 1879.

Council Rejects Light for Traffic

A traffic signal light for Craigflower and Tillicum Roads intersection was rejected Monday by Esquimalt Council.

Accepted were alternatives from the provincial public works department that stop signs be placed nearer the traveled portion of the road, that brush be cleared from one corner, and that centre and stop lines be painted on Tillicum Road.

The department noted that traffic did not fully warrant a light. If erected it would be "stop and go" for only limited rush hours and operate as a flasher for other hours.

The department, which was asked by council for permission to place the light, informed councillors that only four accidents occurred at the intersection in a 12-month period.

Municipal engineer's report on clearing brush and removing earth from one corner will be submitted in two weeks to council.

52 Canadian Ambassadors of Goodwill

The Canada story is being told abroad as perhaps no other living nation's story ever has been told . . . told as only art, the universal language, can tell it.

When The House of Seagram commissioned the painting of 52 portraits of Canadian cities by distinguished Canadian artists and then dispatched those paintings by air on a 30,000-mile international tour, it was with the earnest hope that greatly increased understanding and goodwill toward Canada would follow.

There was little doubt that these graphic glimpses of the Canadian skyline and landscape would bring to people of many lands a deeper interest in Canada and a warmer feeling of friendliness for the Canadian people.

Today, the Seagram Collection is barely half-way on its international tour—and the actuality is daily outstripping the most optimistic of advance estimates. Throughout Latin America . . . in San Juan, Havana, Mexico City, Caracas, Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Buenos Aires . . . Canada, through Seagram's airborne art gallery, is Page One news. Not only at the time of the formal previews for leaders of government, industry, the professions and society, but throughout the seven-to-ten day public showings in each city the Canadian paintings and the cities they represent are major topics of interest in the news pages, on radio and television, in everyday conversation.

As these Canadian ambassadors of goodwill leave Montevideo for Rome, Paris, London, Stockholm, Geneva and Madrid, more than 60,000 people already have studied the collection and carried home brochures reproducing the paintings in full colour. More than that, they have carried away vivid personal impressions of Canada as a great and growing country—a land of vast natural and industrial resources and remarkable human resourcefulness.

The House of Seagram

An old friend to old-time bridge players comes back to the newstands today with the reappearance of Judge magazine, after a lapse of some twenty years. If you remember the prize problems published in the old Judge, perhaps you can recall this one (without the fancy bidding which we have supplied to show how the grand slam might have been reached) from the days when Sidney Lenz, the grand old man of bridge, was a regular contributor.

South's dilemma with this deal is that if he yanks all of East's trumps before he gets rid of the high diamonds in dummy, he has no way of getting back to his hand, but if he leaves East with a trump that player threatens to ruff the second lead of diamonds.

The solution, not too difficult in this case, is one which an expert declarer would work out for himself in actual play. The opening heart lead is won with dummy's ace and South must be sure not to discard one of his losing clubs, as he is logically tempted to do. Instead, he lets go a diamond, comes to his hand with a trump and ruffs a low club in dummy. Another trump puts South back to lead the club queen and trump in North. Now North cashes just one diamond; then a thrid trump is led. On the fourth trump lead and the ace of clubs North, having been sufficiently shortened in trumps, is able to discard the two high diamonds that block the suit and South's diamonds win the rest of the tricks.

The new Judge, like the old, will have a series of cash-prize problems; a series constructed by Alfred Sheinwold and beginning in the current issue.

Bennett Says Debt Reduced $50,000,000

British Columbia's provincial debt is $50,000,000 lower today than it would have been if the Liberals had been re-elected in 1952, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said Monday in the latest of a series of exchanges between himself and former premier Byron Johnson.

In February, 1952, the premier said, the provincial debt under Liberal administration—stood at $191,000,000. Mr. Johnson, premier at the time, planned to borrow another $28,000,000, Mr. Bennett said. This would have increased the net debt another $16,000,000, to a total of $207,000,000.

The premier contrasted this with the net debt today, under Social Credit, of $157,000,000—a difference of $50,000,000.

Basements Flooded By Halifax Rain

HALIFAX (CP)—Heavy rain flooded streets and basements and isolated homes in the Halifax area Sunday. The fall measured almost two inches. Flood waters filled the Fairview underpass, closing the northern entrance to the city for several hours. In suburban Armdale, swollen streams washed out bridges and flooded cellars. The water receded later.

Mayor's Wage Stand Hit

Mayor Claude Harrison Monday dismissed a charge against himself of "inconsistency" by mayoralty candidate Ald. Donald Smith as "mere vote catching."

Alderman Smith said Saturday the mayor was inconsistent because he announced he would oppose any general wage increase for civic employees and yet had supported the 30 per cent increase for City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

CONCERN EXPRESSED

"I'm seriously concerned at the inconsistency shown by Mayor Harrison in his announcement regarding wage increase our civil staff," the alderman said.

"It is all very well for the mayor to say no one should be paid an extra cent if it's going to come out of the taxpayer, but I would like to know just where Mayor Harrison thought the money came from to increase the salary of City Manager Wyatt by $2,000 per year."

Said Mayor Harrison in reply: "I don't propose to get into an argument put forth as an Election dodge or as mere vote catching."

CITY SAVED MONEY

The manager, Mayor Har- [illegible] "a great deal more than the increase referred to and from here on it will become more apparent."

"It's just good business, that's all," he said.

Alderman Smith said he was not surprised to see the civic staff expecting to seek an increase after the city had broken its hold-the-line policy.

"If there is going to be a hold-the-line policy it has got to apply to everyone," he said. "Mayor Harrison, assisted by Ald. Waldo Skillings and Ald. Percy Scurrah, have wrecked that policy by their support of an increase to the manager."

FINE CO-OPERATION

The alderman said the staff had co-operated "magnificently" last year in holding the line and felt it would take a lot of effort "to restore the confidence of the civic employees in the integrity of the civic administration."

"Our reunion started two years ago!"

"I came out from the old country nearly two years ago, to work in a big aircraft factory. I was making a fresh start in a new country, and, of course, I wanted to bring out my wife and little boy as soon as I could.

"My pay cheque said 'The Dominion Bank', so when I took it to The Dominion Bank branch near my lodgings, I decided to open a savings account there. I found the manager and his staff friendly and eager to help me. Making regular deposits became a pleasure, and I saw my account grow, week by week, until I had enough to bring my wife and son to Canada.

"My family's here now . . . and we're all looking forward to a happy and prosperous future. We have a new objective for our savings account at The Dominion Bank—a home of our own!"

INDIAN GIRL'S DEATH BLAMED ON SUB-HUMAN CONDITIONS

Voting Violent Six Die

MANILA (UP)—Six persons were killed in election violence today as Filipinos went to the polls in record numbers.

Army headquarters rushed 40 troops in an armored car and jeeps armed with .50-calibre machine guns to Cavite to put down further uprisings expected by officials here.

Four persons were killed in Cavite. The Liberal party vice-mayor of Baccor village and two of his bodyguards were slain by men reported to be wearing police uniforms. The fourth victim was the 16-year-old son of a Nacionalista party leader, killed when his home was riddled by carbine and rifle fire in Niog village.

An estimated 5,500,000 Filipino voters streamed to the polls to decide whether to retain the Liberal party's President Elpidio Quirino or replace him with the Nacionalistas' Ramon Magsaysay.

The election is the second since the republic won its independence seven years ago.

Press dispatches from Baccor said the vice-mayor was killed when uniformed police fired without provocation on the group riding in a jeep.

The shooting was reported to be the aftermath of a raid on Baccor Sunday night by agents of Liberal party Governor Dominador Cameringo in an attempt to kill the Nacionalista party leader.

Meanwhile, a warrant was issued for the arrest of the Nacionalista candidate for Cavite's lone seat in the House of Representatives, Jose Cajulis. The warrant was issued on charges of illegal possession of firearms. Cajulis was reported in hiding.

A supporter of the Nacionalistas' presidential candidate Ramon Magsaysay was reported shot and wounded by a detective in the presence of the Liberal party mayor of Cebu City. The mayor, according to a dispatch, said the victim, Delfin Lopez, was shot when he made a move to shoot the mayor.

$58,000 Not Paid

TORONTO (CP)—Motorists owe Toronto more than $58,000 in unpaid fines for parking and traffic violations, it was reported Monday at a meeting of a special committee surveying civic departments. Warrants outstanding total 5,150.

Alderman William R. Allen said he knows of one man who owed the city $500 when he applied to the province for renewal of his driver's license.

Saanich Police Have Busy Week End

Looking over thousands of books of tickets, lists and receipts from lotteries that include the Irish Sweepstake and the Grand National, Saanich Const. Robin Stewart, Sgt. Cecil Pearce and Const. George Walton begin the long task of listing them. The tickets were part of a police haul made early Monday. George H. Coward, 929 North Park, was arrested.

Saanich Detective Joseph Armstrong and Tillicum Theatre Manager Bill Ward examine the hole in the offices of the outdoor theatre made by safecrackers Sunday. The thieves forced the office safe door open but failed to get into the strongbox that contained the money. The brace and bit used in making the hole is pictured just as police found it. Mossadegh Weeps Through Session

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—Ex-premier Mohammed Mossadegh wept and wailed through the second day of his treason trial Monday with another breath-taking display of histrionics that left the prosecution harassed and angry.

The aged politician announced he would have nothing more to do with his lawyer—"You've forced him on me"—and then shouted, sobbed, paled as if about to faint, waved his arms and stormed at the judge and prosecutor.

The prosecutor, Hossein Azemoudeh, complained, "He's an egregious actor and he thinks this is a stage." Court president Nasrollah Moghbeli said, "It looks as if you're the judge, not me."

"May I sacrifice for you my dear life, oh Judge General?" Mossadegh pleaded sarcastically, and turning to Azemoudeh, said, "In my frail condition I am even afraid to weep in court, lest I offend certain gentlemen." He burst into tears.

The second day of Mossadegh's trial was even more stormy than the one Sunday. He shuffled into court wearing the same threadbare prison overcoat he wore Sunday. The court waited expectantly while he read his own brief for 10 minutes.

"I am somewhat ill," Mossadegh began, and he asked for water. He appeared gaunt and sickly grey. There was no indication of the outbursts to come. From time to time he interrupted the proceedings to ask for more water.

"Whatever I say today in my defense is not prompted by a desire not to be condemned," Mossadegh said, "because whatever verdict the president pronounces, I'll submit to it and will not protest against any sentence.

"I will not accept the shah's forgiveness if he should decide so—I am no traitor and not afraid."

He handed a copy of his lengthy brief to the court recorder, who was writing it down as Mossadegh read it.

Israel Condemned For Arab Massacre

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Britain, France and the United States Monday condemned Israel for what they called the massacre of Arabs in the village of Kibya.

Spokesmen for the three countries told the United Nations Security Council that a detailed report by the UN truce supervisor, Maj.-Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark, confirmed their belief that the attack was carried out by Israeli armed forces and the government of Israel was responsible for it.

They said, however, that they would await speeches by Jordan and Israeli representatives before asking for council action against Israel.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb warned that such acts constitute a threat to peace throughout the Middle East.

Jebb said it was difficult for the Israel government to escape responsibility for the incident. Information given to the security council by Gen. Bennike "can only confirm my government in condemning it and reinforce their opinion that it has constituted a threat to the security of the entire area."

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., said he has "no doubts" that Israel was to blame.

WAVE OF HORROR

France's Henri Hoppenot said a wave of "horror and reprobation was stirred throughout France by the Kibya massacre."

Bennike said Israeli troops have stepped up their anti-Arab attacks this year.

Wounded in the head by a shotgun charge in a week-end shooting was Robert Davis, 27, of 1242 Johnson. The incident led to a charge of attempted murder again 48-year-old Saanich farmer Edward Lore. Davis was released from hospital Monday.

Ransom Money Passed

PETOSKEY, Mich. (AP) — A police chief said Monday agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have found in Petoskey and Detroit two single bills from the $600,000 Greenlease ransom money, and are searching in Michigan for other clues to the missing $308,000.

The report created speculation that the "hot" money came into Michigan from Chicago or St. Louis hoodlums trying to pass it through professional "fences" at 30 to 50 cents on the dollar.

The FBI made no immediate comment on the report by police chief Philo Wakeford of Petoskey.

All the $600,000 ransom money was in $10 and $20 bills.

Churchill Asks Time, Patience

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill appealed Monday night for "time and patience and good-will" to ease world tension. He cautioned against letting "foolish speech" enflame Anglo-American relations.

Speaking in the role of an elder statesman, the 79-year-old prime minister told the London Lord Mayor's dinner:

"Some people say their worry is about Anglo-American relations. I do not share their anxieties. After all, we are both free-speaking democracies and where there is a great deal of free speach there is always a certain amount of foolish speech.

"But many rude things we say about each other are nothing compared to what we say about ourselves."

Turning to the muddle in Trieste, Sir Winston said: "We strongly advise partisans of either side (Italy and Yugoslavia) in the disputed zones to keep quiet."

Revolt Quelled In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Government forces put down a short-lived revolt in Bolivia Monday. Thirteen persons were reported killed and at least 29 were injured in the fighting.

Two Perish in Struggle Against Neck-Deep Mud

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Helicopters Monday reached four persons trapped by neck-deep mud, but two were already dead.

They were W. T. Lee Jr., 25, and Mrs. R. W. Lakey, 20. Lee was believed to have been drowned when he swallowed, in panic, water that covered the mud.

Mrs. Lakey apparently was killed by exposure and exhaustion. The other two persons with them were Lee's 16-year-old bride of a week, Joyce, and Lakey, 30.

They were suffering from shock and exposure. Mrs. Lee's condition was serious.

The four were marooned on a mudbank late Sunday when the outboard motor on their skiff broke down.

It didn't look far to solid ground, Lakey said, and the mud looked firm so they decided to try to wade out. Lee and his wife started across the mud and though Mrs. Lee made it, Lee quickly tired.

"Lee apparently got scared and drove himself until he was weak," Lakey said. "He made it to within an arm's length of shore."

"Joyce was so tired she could do nothing but lie down. Nell (Mrs. Lakey) and I got about a third of the way to shore. Joyce shouted that Lee had stopped breathing and she couldn't get him to shore."

Lakey finally reached Lee and pulled him on a clump of Reeds. He gave him artificial respiration for two hours.

By this time, it was dark and Mrs. Lakey kept shouting that she was making progress through the mud and for him to go find help. Lakey vainly tried to hail a passing boat.

"I went back through the grass to where the others were," he said. "My wife was still working her way to shore but by now it was beginning to be daylight and I saw she was dropping her head."

When the helicopters arrived, Mrs. Lee was holding the head of her dead husband. Lakey had struggled back to his wife, neck deep in the mire.

He said he was too weak to help her to go on and tried to protect her from the wind, but she died about 20 minutes before the helicopters came. They had managed to get half a mile from their boat.

Strength Drained

Two Attacks of Pneumonia Paved Way for Meningitis

BY BRIAN O'CONNELL

Sub-human living conditions on the West Saanich Indian Reserve have been blamed for the death of a tiny Indian girl and the chronic illnesses of many of her playmates and elders in the T'sartlip Band.

Life had been one continuous struggle for survival for three-year-old Delores Henry.

The child, anaemic at birth had fought off two attacks of pneumonia during her brief and tragic life. But it was a losing battle for the little girl.

One cold after another had sapped the strength from her small body and when the diarrhea epidemic, now spreading through the reserve, hit her, she was too weak to survive it.

She was admitted to Resthaven Hospital Thursday in a coma and in convulsions, and died the next day of acute meningitis.

Last rites for Delores were held in the Church of Assumption, West Saanich Road, Monday, by Father LeClare, parish priest. She was buried in the Catholic Cemetery.

STORM OF PROTEST

The death of this little girl, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henry, has brought a storm of protest from the members of the T'sartlip Band.

Led by Chief Baptiste Paull, the Indians claim that shocking conditions in the Henry home, which according to them was condemned by the department of Indian affairs doctor almost 30 years ago, was the main cause of the child's continual illness, and eventually led to her death.

A solemn cloud hangs over the reserve as families wonder whose child will be the next victim of the draughty and poorly heated homes, the inadequate sanitation and the low standard of living.

Dr. Walter H. Roberts, resident physician at Resthaven, said Monday: "The condition of the Indians is a real grief to me.

"Their housing is bad, their diet is bad, and their economic status is bad.

MORE HOUSES

"If anyone is going to do anything to help them, the first thing they should do is to supply them with more houses. There are some things they can do to help themselves, but they are at a terrible disadvantage at the present time.

"Overcrowding is a serious

Three Leaders May Meet Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government official said Monday night that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill of Britain and Premier Joseph Laniel of France plan to meet soon to discuss the world situation, probably in Bermuda.

This official, who asked not to be named, said no date has been fixed for the Big Three conference. But he indicated it would probably be soon.

U.S., British and French differences with Russia undoubtedly would be one topic of discussion.

That topic, as well as differences which have arisen among the Big Three, was high on the agenda for an Eisenhower-Churchill-Laniel conference scheduled for Bermuda last July.

That meeting was postponed because of Sir Winston's illness. The prime minister has now returned to the job.

The White House has always emphasized that the July meeting was postponed and not canceled. Detailed plans are still ready to put into effect.

Britain Firm On Trieste

LONDON (AP)—An aroused Britain pledged Monday to resist "violence from any quarter" in Trieste, amid a fresh flurry of diplomatic activity to ease tension in the troubled territory.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Monday night suddenly canceled his appearance at the London Lord Mayor's annual banquet, attended by Prime Minister Churchill, to hold urgent talks with the French and Yugoslav ambassadors on the Trieste dispute.

Eden hurried from a tense, packed House of Commons where he announced Britain holds Italian "extremists" responsible for last week's bloody Trieste riots. He demanded that the Italian government act forcefully to curb "irresponsible" and "extremist elements" whom he blamed for the rioting in Trieste and anti-Allied demonstrations in Italy.

Press dispatches from Baccor said the vice-mayor was killed when uniformed police fired without provocation on the group riding in a jeep.

The shooting was reported to be the aftermath of a raid on Baccor Sunday night by agents of Liberal party Governor Dominador Cameringo in an attempt to kill the Nacionalista party leader.

Meanwhile, a warrant was issued for the arrest of the Nacionalista candidate for Cavite's lone seat in the House of Representatives, Jose Cajulis. The warrant was issued on charges of illegal possession of firearms. Cajulis was reported in hiding.

A supporter of the Nacionalistas' presidential candidate Ramon Magsaysay was reported shot and wounded by a detective in the presence of the Liberal party mayor of Cebu City. The mayor, according to a dispatch, said the victim, Delfin Lopez, was shot when he made a move to shoot the mayor.

Saanich Police Have Busy Week End

Looking over thousands of books of tickets, lists and receipts from lotteries that include the Irish Sweepstake and the Grand National, Saanich Const. Robin Stewart, Sgt. Cecil Pearce and Const. George Walton begin the long task of listing them. The tickets were part of a police haul made early Monday. George H. Coward, 929 North Park, was arrested.

Saanich Detective Joseph Armstrong and Tillicum Theatre Manager Bill Ward examine the hole in the offices of the outdoor theatre made by safe-crackers Sunday. The thieves forced the office safe door open but failed to get into the strongbox that contained the money. The brace and bit used in making the hole is pictured just as police found it. Mossadegh Weeps Through Session

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—Ex-premier Mohammed Mossadegh wept and wailed through the second day of his treason trial Monday with another breath-taking display of histrionics that left the prosecution harassed and angry.

The aged politician announced he would have nothing more to do with his lawyer—"You've forced him on me"—and then shouted, sobbed, paled as if about to faint, waved his arms and stormed at the judge and prosecutor.

The prosecutor, Hossein Azemoudeh, complained, "He's an egregious actor and he thinks this is a stage." Court president Nasrollah Moghbeli said, "It looks as if you're the judge, not me."

"May I sacrifice for you my dear life, oh Judge General?" Mossadegh pleaded sarcastically, and turning to Azemoudeh, said, "In my frail condition I am even afraid to weep in court, lest I offend certain gentlemen." He burst into tears.

The second day of Mossadegh's trial was even more stormy than the one Sunday. He shuffled into court wearing the same threadbare prison overcoat he wore Sunday. The court waited expectantly while he read his own brief for 10 minutes.

"I am somewhat ill," Mossadegh began, and he asked for water. He appeared gaunt and sickly grey. There was no indication of the outbursts to come. From time to time he interrupted the proceedings to ask for more water.

"Whatever I say today in my defense is not prompted by a desire not to be condemned," Mossadegh said, "because whatever verdict the president pronounces, I'll submit to it and will not protest against any sentence.

"I will not accept the shah's forgiveness if he should decide so—I am no traitor and not afraid."

He handed a copy of his lengthy brief to the court recorder, who was writing it down as Mossadegh read it.

Israel Condemned For Arab Massacre

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Britain, France and the United States Monday condemned Israel for what they called the massacre of Arabs in the village of Kibya.

Spokesmen for the three countries told the United Nations Security Council that a detailed report by the UN truce supervisor, Maj.-Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark, confirmed their belief that the attack was carried out by Israeli armed forces and the government of Israel was responsible for it.

They said, however, that they would await speeches by Jordan and Israeli representatives before asking for council action against Israel.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb warned that such acts constitute a threat to peace throughout the Middle East.

Jebb said it was difficult for the Israel government to escape responsibility for the incident. Information given to the security council by Gen. Bennike "can only confirm my government in condemning it and reinforce their opinion that it has constituted a threat to the security of the entire area."

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., said he has "no doubts" that Israel was to blame.

WAVE OF HORROR

France's Henri Hoppenot said a wave of "horror and reprobation was stirred throughout France by the Kibya massacre."

Bennike said Israeli troops have stepped up their anti-Arab attacks this year.

Wounded in the head by a shotgun charge in a week-end shooting was Robert Davis, 27, of 1242 Johnson. The incident led to a charge of attempted murder again 48-year-old Saanich farmer Edward Lore. Davis was released from hospital Monday.

Churchill Asks Time, Patience

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill appealed Monday night for "time and patience and good-will" to ease world tension. He cautioned against letting "foolish speech" enflame Anglo-American relations.

Speaking in the role of an elder statesman, the 79-year-old prime minister told the London Lord Mayor's dinner:

"Some people say their worry is about Anglo-American relations. I do not share their anxieties. After all, we are both free-speaking democracies and where there is a great deal of free speach there is always a certain amount of foolish speech.

"But many rude things we say about each other are nothing compared to what we say about ourselves."

Turning to the muddle in Trieste, Sir Winston said: "We strongly advise partisans of either side (Italy and Yugoslavia) in the disputed zones to keep quiet."

Sonny Jones Pays Penalty

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charles Matthews, professional boxer known as Sonny Jones, was hanged at Oakalla prison early today for the hammer-slaying of Mrs. Los Angeles Smith last March.

The trap was sprung at 12.04 a.m. PST.

Ransom Money Passed

PETOSKEY, Mich. (AP) — A police chief said Monday agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have found in Petoskey and Detroit two single bills from the $600,000 Greenlease ransom money, and are searching in Michigan for other clues to the missing $308,000.

The report created speculation that the "hot" money came into Michigan from Chicago or St. Louis hoodlums trying to pass it through professional "fences" at 30 to 50 cents on the dollar.

The FBI made no immediate comment on the report by police chief Philo Wakeford of Petoskey.

All the $600,000 ransom money was in $10 and $20 bills.

Revolt Quelled In Bolivia

Strength Drained

Two Attacks of Pneumonia Paved Way for Meningitis

BY BRIAN O'CONNELL

Sub-human living conditions on the West Saanich Indian Reserve have been blamed for the death of a tiny Indian girl and the chronic illnesses of many of her playmates and elders in the T'sartlip Band.

Life had been one continuous struggle for survival for three-year-old Delores Henry.

The child, anaemic at birth, had fought off two attacks of pneumonia during her brief and tragic life. But it was a losing battle for the little girl.

One cold after another had sapped the strength from her small body and when the diarrhea epidemic, now spreading through the reserve, hit her, she was too weak to survive it.

She was admitted to Resthaven Hospital Thursday in a coma and in convulsions, and died the next day of acute meningitis.

Last rites for Delores were held in the Church of Assumption, West Saanich Road, Monday, by Father LeClare, parish priest. She was buried in the Catholic Cemetery.

STORM OF PROTEST

The death of this little girl, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henry, has brought a storm of protest from the members of the T'sartlip Band.

Led by Chief Baptiste Paull, the Indians claim that shocking conditions in the Henry home, which according to them was condemned by the department of Indian affairs doctor almost 30 years ago, was the main cause of the child's continual illness, and eventually led to her death.

A solemn cloud hangs over the reserve as families wonder whose child will be the next victim of the draughty and poorly heated homes, the inadequate sanitation and the low standard of living.

Dr. Walter H. Roberts, resident physician at Resthaven, said Monday: "The condition of the Indians is a real grief to me.

"Their housing is bad, their diet is bad, and their economic status is bad.

MORE HOUSES

"If anyone is going to do anything to help them, the first thing they should do is to supply them with more houses. There are some things they can do to help themselves, but they are at a terrible disadvantage at the present time.

"Overcrowding is a serious

Three Leaders May Meet Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government official said Monday night that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill of Britain and Premier Joseph Laniel of France plan to meet soon to discuss the world situation, probably in Bermuda.

This official, who asked not to be named, said no date has been fixed for the Big Three conference. But he indicated it would probably be soon.

U.S., British and French differences with Russia undoubtedly would be one topic of discussion.

That topic, as well as differences which have arisen among the Big Three, was high on the agenda for an Eisenhower-Churchill-Laniel conference scheduled for Bermuda last July.

That meeting was postponed because of Sir Winston's illness. The prime minister has now returned to the job.

The White House has always emphasized that the July meeting was postponed and not canceled. Detailed plans are still ready to put into effect.

Britain Firm On Trieste

LONDON (AP)—An aroused Britain pledged Monday to resist "violence from any quarter" in Trieste, amid a fresh flurry of diplomatic activity to ease tension in the troubled territory.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden Monday night suddenly canceled his appearance at the London Lord Mayor's annual banquet, attended by Prime Minister Churchill, to hold urgent talks with the French and Yugoslav ambassadors on the Trieste dispute.

Eden hurried from a tense, packed House of Commons where he announced Britain holds Italian "extremists" responsible for last week's bloody Trieste riots. He demanded that the Italian government act forcefully to curb "irresponsible" and "extremist elements" whom he blamed for the rioting in Trieste and anti-Allied demonstrations in Italy.

Two Perish in Struggle Against Neck-Deep Mud

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Helicopters Monday reached four persons trapped by neck-deep mud, but two were already dead.

They were W. T. Lee Jr., 25, and Mrs. R. W. Lakey, 20. Lee was believed to have been drowned when he swallowed, in panic, water that covered the mud.

Mrs. Lakey apparently was killed by exposure and exhaustion. The other two persons with them were Lee's 16-year-old bride of a week, Joyce, and Lakey, 30.

They were suffering from shock and exposure. Mrs. Lee's condition was serious.

The four were marooned on a mudbank late Sunday when the outboard motor on their skiff broke down.

It didn't look far to solid ground, Lakey said, and the mud looked firm so they decided to try to wade out. Lee and his wife started across the mud and though Mrs. Lee made it, Lee quickly tired.

"Lee apparently got scared and drove himself until he was weak," Lakey said. "He made it to within an arm's length of shore."

"Joyce was so tired she could do nothing but lie down. Nell (Mrs. Lakey) and I got about a third of the way to shore. Joyce shouted that Lee had stopped breathing and she couldn't get him to shore."

Lakey finally reached Lee and pulled him on a clump of Reeds. He gave him artificial respiration for two hours.

By this time, it was dark and Mrs. Lakey kept shouting that she was making progress through the mud and for him to go find help. Lakey vainly tried to hail a passing boat.

"I went back through the grass to where the others were," he said. "My wife was still working her way to shore but by now it was beginning to be daylight and I saw she was dropping her head."

When the helicopters arrived, Mrs. Lee was holding the head of her dead husband. Lakey had struggled back to his wife, neck deep in the mire.

He said he was too weak to help her to go on and tried to protect her from the wind, but she died about 20 minutes before the helicopters came. They had managed to get half a mile from their boat.
